COLD TO LINGER; BAD WINTER IS PREDICTED

After the usual formalities were over and Mr. VonHerrmann, weather director, had directed the weather to remain clear and cool through Monday and Tuesday, he went on to talk of the symptoms of the coming winter. The symptoms went so far as to include volcanic eruptions in 1912, which (Mr. VonHerrmann asserted) very likely would have a material bearing on the temperature of the coming winter.

"Let's get the present weather out of the way first," the director suggested. "That cold snap Saturday night and Sunday was the result of a low area—a very low area, as the astronomer goes—moving slowly eastward across the top of the United States. That caused a vast whirl of wind, blowing southward out of the Northwest. And that brought the cold."

"At 5 o'clock Monday morning the temperature in Atlanta was 28 degrees above zero. Up at Duluth it was only 5 above. That's where the cold is coming from. The storm center is moving slowly out toward the Atlantic Ocean, and will pass Nova Scotia Tuesday."

Clear Skies to Continue.

Monday and Monday night will be clear and cool, with the temperature about 28 degrees Tuesday morning. A moderate rain will be noticed Tuesday afternoon, and Wednesday should be fair and warmer. The clear weather should last several days."

Then Mr. VonHerrmann looked up the snow records for November, and that brought on volcanic eruption and their relation to cold winters.

"That flicker of snow Sunday," said the director, "was the fifth of its kind to be recorded in November in the 34 years of the Atlanta station. There never has been a measurable snow here in November, as far back as the records go. The other furies were in 1901, November 19; in November 13, 1904; November 14, 1905, and the day before last Thanksgiving."

Early Snow Bad Sign.

"Now, let's see if the early November snows were followed by cold or mild winters."

"The winter of 1901-2, was cold. December, January and February all were cold months, with February the coldest. The winter of 1904-5 also was cold, with December the mildest, and February again the coldest month. But the winter of 1906-7 was very mild, with one of the warmest Januarys on record. And last winter also was mild."

"That's no odds in favor of a cold winter this time—and I'll admit the symptoms aren't very conclusive yet. Still, there are the volcanic eruptions."

And then Mr. VonHerrmann went on to say that the weather should be fair and warmer.

Hopkins Loses Art Treasures in Fire

$15,000 LOSS BY BLAZE IN RICH HOME

Physician Happy, However, When He Rescues Editorial Page
From Sunday American.

From the fire that swept through the second floor of his handsome home at No. 275 Peachtree street Monday morning, Dr. J. R. Hopkins saved the editorial page of The Sunday American, while about $15,000 worth of paintings, manuscripts, curios and bric-a-brac were burned or ruined by smoke and water.

"I was reading a wonderful editorial by Brisbane," said Dr. Hopkins, when the blaze finally was under control. "The Last Dance," it was called, and it was a marvelous piece of work. I was downstairs at breakfast, and the first impulse I had when I rushed up to my living room and was met by a wave of smoke was to get that editorial that I hadn't finished reading. I got it too."

The fire started about 10 o'clock in Dr. Hopkins' living room on the second floor, presumably from the grate.

Dr. Hopkins at Breakfast.

Dr. Hopkins was at breakfast, served by Wesley Bell, the famous chef who had won words of praise from Theodore Roosevelt and other well known public men by his culinary skill. Mrs. Hopkins was in New York, with her son, Russell, and Dr. Hopkins, having motored back to Atlanta three weeks ago, was keeping bachelor's quarters in his $300,000 establishment.

It was Dr. Hopkins himself who first noted the clouds of smoke issuing from the upper windows of the house, with a perceptible odor descending to the lower floor where he was breakfasting.

He ran upstairs and found the flames already spreading from the living room to his bedroom, and everything obscured by a thick smoke.

"I got the Brisbane editorial," Dr. Hopkins repeated with some pride, relating the adventure, "but my pictures and manuscripts are burned or ruined—an inestimable loss to me. There was one picture of Russell, when he was 4 years old—the actual value of it was $1,000, but figures can not express what that picture meant to me."

Manuscripts Not Replaceable.

"Twenty-five or 30 other paintings and engravings also were destroyed—I had just moved them in there last Thursday from other parts of the house. And my manuscripts of a number of volumes; books that have cost me years of labor—they were burned, too. And they are absolutely not replaceable."

"Then there were the curios and bric-a-brac, all my pet fancies collected abroad. I couldn't put any real estimate on my loss. If I should say $15,000 it might just as well be $20,000 or $30,000. But I saved that editorial. Here it is."

And Dr. Hopkins exhibited it with some pride.

The damage to the house itself was confined to the living room, bedroom and bathroom of Dr. Hopkins, with some devastation in the attic on the next floor above. The celebrated "Japanese room" on the lower floor was not injured, and the other part of the house suffered only slightly by smoke and water.

Train Cuts Off His Legs as Boy Picks Up Coal on Wintery Day

Picking up coal on the railroad tracks near the Jefferson street crossing, Virgil Rakestraw, 14 years old, was run over by a switch engine Monday. Both legs were cut off near the knees. He was taken to the Grady Hospital, where it is said he can not survive the shock.

A 9-year-old brother fainted when he saw Virgil under the engine's wheels.

Virgil and his brother had gone to the tracks to pick up coal which they sold to neighbors living near by, a No. 118 Julian street. His tempestuous career had taught him the dangers that lurk around the railroad tracks, but he had become accustomed to them, and was not careful.

Several times he had run away from his father, El. K. Rakestraw. Last March he ran away and was gone for two months.

This morning he told his father he and his brother were going over to a mill to get some work. The little brother, 9 years old, has worked in the mills for several months.

Snatcher of Purse Is Given Five Years

W. M. Heard was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Judge Hill in the Fulton County Criminal Court Monday morning, following his conviction for snatching a woman's pocketbook at the corner of Whitehall street and Trinity avenue several months ago.

Heard was caught after a chase of a block by a great crowd of men, many of whom testified that he gave as his cause for the act that his wife and baby were starving to death.

At the trial he denied that he was the man who had seized the pocketbook. A number of men identified him as the thief.

Senate Caucus Will Delay Currency Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Senate Democrats have called a caucus on the currency bill on their own initiative, President Wilson indicated today. He told visitors it was not by any suggestion of his that the caucus will be held, but he is greatly gratified by this development.

"The call for a caucus will cause more delay in legislation," said Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, today. "I do not intend to surrender my convictions. I do not know whether I will even attend the caucus."

Shaw Would Lecture In U. S. With Kaiser

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Several Americans have been trying to induce George Bernard Shaw to give a lecture tour in America, the argument being that Kaiser Wilhelm and Shaw are the only two great attractions remaining unexploited. To this Shaw replied:

"I quite agree to that opinion and I shall agree to go to the United States upon the condition that I appear upon the same stage as the Kaiser."

3,000 Hear Former Convict of Atlanta

ANDERSON, S. C., Nov. 10.—A remarkable religious meeting in this city was held Sunday afternoon at the courthouse by Louis J. Bernhardt, former secretary of the State Prison Association of Georgia and now general manager of the Southern Railway Association with headquarters at Atlanta.

Fully 3,000 men heard the former Atlanta convict and almost a stampede took place when the audience sought to congratulate the speaker.

War Talk Revives Waycross Soldiers

WAYCROSS, Nov. 10.—Members of the old Waycross Guards, a military company disbanded more than a year ago, are seeking reorganization and will today request that the company be mustered into the State service.

Harold Harper, first sergeant, is leading the movement, and these with him are ready to offer their services to the Government in the event war is declared against Mexico.

BROWN WILL MANAGE HOTEL

Many Improvements Planned by Atlanta's Historic Hostelry.

Following the filing of a voluntary petition in bankruptcy by George A. Lougee, lessee of the Kimball House, Monday, the creditors met and secured the appointment by Judge Newman of Ed L. Brown, manager of the famous hotel, as receiver. The hotel will continue open under his management.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Brown's management of the hotel will be under the direction of John W. Grant, millionaire owner of the hotel. Though Mr. Grant is not generally known as a hotel man, in social circles he is known as Atlanta's leading connoisseur of French menus, and speaking of the new management of the hotel he said:

"Mr. Lougee has failed, but the Kimball House has not. Under the new management there will be better food and better beds."

New Hotels Demanded.

The failure of the management of the Kimball House, which is one of the best known hotels in the South and has been the political headquarters of Georgia for many years, came as a great surprise to Atlantans. Despite the opening of new hotels there are still demands for more rooms, and there are reports that even additional hotels will be built. In view of the meeting of the Imperial Council of the Shriners and the many other conventions next year, hotel men are anticipating a most prosperous season. The new management of the Kimball House assures the public it will be prepared to make a bid for a good share of the business.

It was stated after the conference of the creditors Monday that an effort was being made to effect a settlement with Mr. Lougee on a basis of 20 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Lougee, in his petition in bankruptcy, gives his assets as $15,000, consisting of stock in trade, crockery, etc. His liabilities are $35,562, the chief item being $12,200 for rent for the months of September, October and November due the H. I. Kimball House Company—Mr. Grant.

Mrs. Annie Inman Grant is also one of the creditors. She is owed $1,500 for rent.

Asks for Receiver.

In a supplementary petition, Mr. Lougee asks for the appointment of a receiver, pointing out the absolute necessity of a continuance of the business so as to avoid great losses to the creditors.

Many of the creditors are out-of-town supply men, but there is one note due a local bank for $4,500. In secured claims there is represented $2,000.

Famous Political Spot.

The Kimball House is one of Atlanta's famous landmarks, and is known wherever Southern politicians, especially Georgians, gather. Governors have been made and unmade in its lobbies and rooms, and legislative measures have first seen the light of day in its cafe. For years it has been the headquarters of virtually every candidate who has ever made a State-wide fight for office.

Its time of greatest prosperity is during the sessions of the Legislature when nine-tenths of the members of the Senate and the House inscribe their names on its register, and make it their headquarters.

Train Wrecks Wagon; 2 Occupants Unhurt

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Nov. 10.—Ernest and Levi Johnson, two negroes, narrowly escaped death here today when Southern Railway passenger train No. 9, running 25 miles an hour, collided with a wagon on which they were riding.

The wagon was completely wrecked, but the negroes escaped uninjured.

Conley Expected to Plead Guilty and Ask Court's Mercy

It is expected that Jim Conley, the negro whose testimony featured the trial of Leo M. Frank, will be taken before Judge Ben H. Hill, in the Fulton County Criminal Court, Tuesday morning and plead guilty to the charges against him as an accessory to the killing of Mary Phagan.

The attorneys for Conley have not stated whether they will go to a trial or whether they simply will have the negro plead guilty and ask for the mercy of the court. At the Solicitor's office, though, it is understood he will plead guilty.

Conley has been in solitary confinement at the county jail since the first day he took the stand in the Frank trial. An order, which was issued by Judge Ross that night, that he be not allowed to see or talk to anyone, never has been removed.

Board Tries to Find How to Get Rid of $70,000 Bond Fund

The Bond Commission and the Water Board met in the City Hall Monday and wrestled for two hours with the problem of how to spend about $70,000 of bond money in laying water mains in many streets that have sewers but no water connections.

On account of a pamphlet issued just before the people voted on the $3,000,000 of bonds, which contained a list of streets on which Council officials were perplexed to know what to do. This list contained many streets on which there are no houses. There are many thickly settled streets without water not on the list.

After a number of motions by Mayor Woodward and others the Joint bodies decided to ask Council for authority to spend the $70,000 where it is most needed.

Morse Is Planning New Steamship Line

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Charles W. Morse has taken another step to retrieve the time lost from his business ventures while in Atlanta prison. He is planning the inauguration of a freight steamship line between Wilmington, N. C., and Baltimore.

Morse says he has purchased three boats, which are now undergoing repairs at Bath, Maine. He says $25,000 of the money needed for the new line will be furnished by shippers in Wilmington.

Methodist Pastors Indorse Liquor War

The Methodist ministers of Atlanta, at their regular weekly meeting Monday morning, adopted resolutions indorsing the action of the prohibition mass meeting Sunday afternoon. They pledged their support to the movement to stop the sale of all kinds of alcoholic drinks.

Asks Early Mailing Of Christmas Parcels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—"Mail your Christmas parcels early," warns the Postoffice Department.

Postmaster General Burleson explains that this will be the first holiday experience of the parcel post, and in order to insure prompt deliveries he asks the co-operation of the public.

Woman Hurt in Auto Wreck Is Near Death

WAYCROSS, Nov. 10.—W. O. Neal and wife were injured, the latter seriously, a horse killed and an auto badly smashed in a collision here today. J. L. Sanders was driving the car and witnesses say the collision was unavoidable.

Years are entertained for the woman's recovery.

GARRISON BACK FROM PANAMA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison and his party arrived here today from Cristobal on the steamer Genoa.

JEWS FLEE KIEFF IN FEAR OF MOBS

Government Troops Patrol City in Effort to Keep Down Riots
Following Verdict.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

KIEFF, RUSSIA, Nov. 10.—A verdict of not guilty was returned today in the famous ritual murder trial of Mendel Beilis, the Jewish workman accused of slaying to death Andrew Yushinsky, a Christian boy, for sacrificial purposes in 1911.

"This is a victory for Beilis, but a greater victory for the Jewish race in Russia," said M. Grouseburg, leading counsel for the defendant.

The trial of Beilis, which began on October 5, aroused greater interest throughout the world than any other criminal trial since the Dreyfus case in France.

Although intrinsically only an ordinary criminal case, the Kieff trial held the attention of the civilized world because of the religious and racial elements injected into it by the Russian Government.

Defence's Hard Fight.

The anti-semitic hostility of the Government here was given free play and the prosecutor sought to make it appear that a Jew had killed a Christian boy for ritual motives.

From the very first the defense met legal blow for blow, and before the trial was half over it was apparent that the Government would bring down tremendous censure upon itself if it allowed a verdict of guilty to be returned.

Because the eyes of the world were upon Kieff the Government was compelled to take precautions to prevent an anti-Jewish uprising in the event of acquittal, and the town was full of soldiers to-day when the verdict transpired.

History of the Crime.

The body of Andrew Yushinsky was found in a cave on the outskirts of Kieff on March 25, 1911.

M. Krassovsky, the chief of Kieff police, investigated the crime. His findings were duly improved, but shortly after he was deposed. A short time later the successor of Krassovsky announced that evidence had been found indicating that a "ritual crime" had been committed.

Beilis, an employee of a brick works, was arrested on circumstantial evidence. He denied the crime and his story was so plausible that a movement in his favor was started. M. Grouseburg, one of the best known attorneys in Russia, was retained in his behalf.

The contention of the defense was that Yushinsky had been killed because he knew too much about the criminal operations of a band headed by a woman named Vera Tcheberlak.

According to some of the testimony, Andrew and two of Vera's children had been used in some of the criminal operations of the band. The woman became one of the central figures in the case. Beilis was in prison for two years, during which time he was subjected to the third degree, with all the traditional severity of the Russian police. He remained steadfast in his protestations of innocence and his last words when the case went to the jury was, "I am innocent of any crime."

It was estimated that several thousand have left Kieff since the trial began, fearing a massacre in the event of acquittal. Beilis probably will go to America in 1914.

SANITATION REFORMS URGED

Reorganization of Department and More Money Necessary for Hygienic Improvement.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, head of the health department, Tuesday upped the report on his department by the Russell Sage Foundation. He declared it was a fair criticism. The report was prepared after weeks of investigation by Franz Schneider, Jr. Though many of his comments are unfavorable, he praises the spirit of the health officers.

"Mr. Schneider very cleverly emphasizes many needs of the department that we have been urging for years," said Dr. Kennedy. "His report brings up the question of a means of securing them. If it helps in convincing Council that it must provide additional funds and make certain changes, it will prove a great help to the department."

The report was prepared at the instance and expense of the Chamber of Commerce. Copies have been furnished Dr. Kennedy and other city officials, and it is the hope of the Chamber of Commerce that Council and the Board of Health will see fit to adopt some of the suggestions for improvement in Atlanta's health conditions.

Defects in Organization.

After citing in one, two, three, or the specific faults of Atlanta's health system, Mr. Schneider says:

"We have seen that there are serious defects in the city's present organization; that several of the largest hygienic opportunities are neglected; and that radical reorganization and enlargement will be necessary to take adequate advantage of the situation."

Here are the specific needs he points out:

To reorganize the Board of Health, replacing the large board with a small one, whose duties shall be confined to recommendations for additions to the sanitary code.

To separate the sanitary and health departments, placing all administrative authority over the health department in its nominal head.

Urges Infant Hygiene Bureau.

That the health department be furnished with inspectors to control the conditions of open vaults and private wells.

That a department of infant hygiene be established with nurses and infant welfare stations.

That the tuberculosis sanitarium at Little Hill be radically enlarged. That a tuberculosis division of the health department be established requiring the reporting of all cases of the disease in the city.

That a health department dispensary be established with general and special clinics.

That the laboratory work dealing with milk inspection and contagious diseases be extended materially.

That more attention be given to the control of communicable diseases among negroes. The negroes are the city's greatest hygienic liability and opportunity, the very source of most of the contagious diseases.

That a system of house inspection be established.

That a department of publicity and education be established.

That the appropriation to the health department be increased to reasonable proportions.

Leaves $5,500 for Masses for 'Lost'

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The will of Mary A. Kelly, filed here, made bequests of $5,500 from an estate estimated at $8,000, "for masses for the souls in purgatory."

$100,000 Art Works Blown Up by Bombs By Militant Squad

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. MANCHESTER, ENGLAND, Nov. 11.—Sufragists adopted bombs today in their war against their foes and destroyed the famous cactus house in Alexandra Park.

Bombs thrown into the structure destroyed painting and other works of art to the value of $100,000.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Sufragette arson squads today destroyed the pavilions of the Bellingham Bowling and Tennis Club at Clarendon, as well as Begbrook Mansion, at Franschay, near Bristol.

Perry-Plant Shoe Suit Again on Trial

The suit of George H. Perry, Atlanta shoe man, against the Thomas G. Plant Company, of Boston, shoe manufacturers, which has been on trial before Judge Ellis, probably will last several days more.

Perry is suing for $2,000, which he claims is due him on a 50 per cent division of the net profits made by a shoe department in a leading Whitehall street store maintained by the Plant Company and managed by him. The case has been in the courts since May, 1911.

French Writer Likens Our Women to Chinese

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, Nov. 11.—"The American woman as a mother is like the Chinese woman who throw into the dustbin the babies they do not want," declares Emile Deschamps, member of the Paris Geographical Society, in a book entitled "Uncle Sam's Women," published today.

M. Deschamps does not see a single redeeming feature in the American woman.

Krupp Men Guilty Of War Bribery

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Otto Eckus, a director of the Krupp works, and Maximilian Brandt, former Berlin agent for the firm, were today found guilty of bribing military officers to secure ordnance secrets.

Brandt was sentenced to four months and Eckus was fined $375.

Lady Howard Praises U. S. 'Water Wagon'

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—"Americans are more sober than Englishmen," declared Lady Aurea Howard, daughter of the Countess of Carlisle, as she sailed for home, having been in this country six weeks in the interests of temperance with a party of W. C. T. U. delegates.

Wellesley Sophs Urge Baseball for Beauty

WELLESLEY, Nov. 11.—A campaign to make baseball an organized major sport at Wellesley College is now under way.

"How strong and beautiful and good Wellesley girls then might be," reads an appeal sent out by the sophomores.

Roosevelt Reviews Argentine Children

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 11.—Colonel Roosevelt reviewed thousands of school children, who sang "America" in English.

The spectacle was an imposing one, and the Colonel was greatly delighted.

THE WEATHER.
Forecast for Atlanta and Georgia—Fair and warmer Tuesday; fair Wednesday.

FOUR HOMES BURNED, 2 DAMAGED

Families Forced to Flee to Streets in Nightclothing to Escape Flames.

Members of four families had narrow escapes from death; four houses were destroyed and two others badly damaged, in fires in three different sections of the city Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock. The home of W. H. Davidson, 17 Marion avenue, was burned to the ground, a house occupied by I. T. Bass, next door, at 19 Marion street, was badly damaged, and a hole was burned in the roof of the home of G. E. Watkins, 77 Boulevard terrace.

Three negro houses at 18 Arthur street, occupied by Odessa Reid; 412 Ira street, occupied by Estelle Arnold, and 410 Ira street, vacant, were destroyed.

Four of the families had to flee from their homes in their night clothing, with blankets wrapped around them. I. T. Bass and his family left their home before it caught from the flames that devoured the Davidson home, and awakened Mr. Davidson and his family, and Miss Anna Olson, of New York, a visitor at the Davidson home, just in time to save their lives.

Woman Gives Alarm.

The Watkins home, on Boulevard terrace caught fire shortly before 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Watkins was awakened suddenly by the crackle and roar of the flames, and thought the sound came from a burglar trying to gain entrance into the house. She arose from her bed, secured a revolver and then awakened her husband.

Mr. Watkins listened and he, too, thought a burglar was attempting entrance. He took the revolver and started to investigate. As he opened the bedroom door he was met by a cloud of smoke so thick that he was unable to stand before it.

Flames followed the smoke into the room, and Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were forced to flee into the street, wrapped only in blankets they had snatched from the bed. The flames were extinguished before great damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Miss Olson escaped from their home at No. 17 Marion avenue only a few seconds before the roof crashed in. On the rooms they had been occupying. I. T. Bass, living next door at No. 19 Marion avenue, was awakened by the sound of the flames, and he and Mrs. Bass ran into the street. They tried to awaken their Davidson family by knocking on their door and screaming, but were unsuccessful.

Awakened by Pistol Shots.

Then Mr. Bass got his revolver and fired several shots under the window of the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Davidson was sleeping, finally awakening them. The occupants of the house fled into the street in their night clothing, and as they emerged from the house the roof and walls crashed in.

Mr. Bass' house caught fire and was badly damaged before the fire department arrived.

The fire in the three negro houses had gained great headway before it was discovered. It started in the vacant house at No. 410 Ira street, and spread rapidly to No. 412 Ira street and the house just around the corner at No. 18 Arthur street. Odessa Reid and her family, and the family of Estelle Arnold, left the buildings as the walls fell.

NO U. S. AID FOR ROAD.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—The Government formally served notice on the Chamber of Commerce today that it could expect no aid in the proposed military road to Tybee Island. A bond issue of several hundred thousand dollars will be proposed by the county.

6 Blind Men Solicit Fund to Save Home

Six blind men, dependent upon the Industrial Institute for the Blind, are making a personal canvass of the business district Tuesday morning, to solicit the remainder of the sum necessary to prevent the home at 333 Simpson street from being sold for the debt.

A little more than one-half of the $2,000 needed had been raised Monday, but it is thought the blind men will add materially to the fund.

Destroys His Saloon Stock; Joins Church

WILKESBARRE, PA., Nov. 11.—Because he had joined the church, George B. Orman, for years a saloon keeper at Nanticoke, publicly burned his license and dumped all the beer, whisky and wine in his cafe into the street.

He refused several tempting cash offers for his business.

Eggs Are 6 Cents Apiece in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Seven cents a piece for best quality fresh eggs may be the price this week. They are 6 cents now. Eggs will be imported from Europe, a consignment coming from Austria in a few days.

Death of Athlete Reveals His Secret Wedding to Singer

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—Wayman P. Harmon, reputed to have been the best athlete the University of Georgia ever turned out, who died in Colorado last week, kept his marriage to a pretty concert singer, Miss Vadie Ritchie, of Canton, Ill., secret for two years. His family in Savannah learned of it when the body was brought here for interment.

Young Harmon married Miss Ritchie at Pueblo, Colo., two years ago, when he went West in the hope of successfully battling tuberculosis. The parents on both sides objected and they were married secretly.

Railroad Must Cut Weeds, Court Rules

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The United States Supreme Court decided Monday that if railroads allow obnoxious weeds to grow on their rights-of-way and the weeds go to seed and the seed is blown into a farmer's field and grows, the railroad is responsible for damages.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad sued to test a Texas law entitled: "An act to prohibit railroads from allowing Johnson grass or Russian thistles from going to seed on their rights-of-way."

Jewish Co-ed College Foes Win in Debate

If the cause of co-educational colleges and universities had rested on the debate at the Jewish Educational Alliance meeting, Tuesday morning would have seen that cause overthrown.

The debate Monday night under the auspices of the public speaking department was decided in that fashion after a spirited contest between D. Janko and K. Levine, for the affirmative, and J. Brail and I. Kuniavsky, for the opposition.

Pope's Gardener, Pay Too Small, Tries to Die

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. ROME, Nov. 11.—The Pope was greatly distressed when he learned that the aged gardener at the Vatican, Antolini, had attempted to commit suicide.

Antolini threw himself from a wall 30 feet high. The man was in financial difficulties, as his wage as gardener was small.

Overturned Ship Seen Floating in Huron

PORT HURON, MICH., Nov. 11.—A large steel freighter, overturned and floating down, was sighted about eight miles off this port late last night. It is believed she is a 600-footer and must have carried a crew of at least 40 men. It is believed all of them were lost.

Feared Dancourt Lost Life in Egypt Flight

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, Nov. 11.—It is feared that Airman Dancourt and a passenger, who were making a flight from Paris to Cairo, met death in the Black Sea. They left Varna for Constantinople Friday morning, and no news of them had been received up to midnight last night.

Anita Stewart Operated Upon

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. PARIS, Nov. 11.—The Duchess of Vizen, who was Miss Anita Stewart, was operated upon for appendicitis at the American Hospital at Neuilly. She is progressing favorably.

100 DEAD IN GALE OVER LAKES

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—How many lives were lost in the storm which swept the upper Great Lakes and wrecked many boats likely will not be known for several days. To-day it was estimated that at least 100 have been lost in the gale.

It was known that a large freighter, probably carrying 40 men, was overturned in Lake Huron. An unidentified steamer was being pounded to pieces on the rocks of Manitowish Island.

In Detroit a barge was smashed against the shore and eight men were drowned. Scores of small boats were reported wrecked, although no definite news could be obtained as to possible fatalities.

The storm had abated to-day, although Lake Michigan was still rough. Men were put at work repairing damage done to Lincoln Park improvements along the lake front.

R. N. Reid, chairman of the Automobile Show Committee, and the man who has made the big exhibition a success, according to his friend.

HUERTA LAYS PLANS TO GET MORE FUNDS

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. MEXICO CITY, Nov. 11.—According to a program outlined to-day by an official close to the Huerta administration, the incoming Mexican Congress will first turn its attention to obtaining funds by means of great oil concessions.

It is probable that the matter of adjudicating the recent election will be postponed until early in December. No immediate action will be taken by Congress on the diplomatic troubles between the United States and Mexico.

Congress also will consider granting huge railroad concessions to Belgian promoters, providing for the construction of 5,000 miles of railway in the republic. If the railway and oil concessions go through, the Government, undoubtedly, will be able to raise an immense fund, which can be used to advantage if war ever breaks out with the United States.

Persistent rumors to-day that General Huerta and General Minquet were about to leave the country probably originated from arrangements they are making to send their families abroad. They are preparing as best they can for war with the United States, and will fight it out to the end, no matter how hopeless.

Other groundless rumors that diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico had been broken off, caused some excitement, but no apparent anti-American feeling. The people at large feel kindly toward all

John Philip Sousa, chairman of the parade committee, and the man who will pilot one of the most beautiful and most original decorations will have the balcony of the Capital City Club as a reviewing stand. This will give them two opportunities of seeing the parade, once as it goes out Peachtree street and again as it returns.

PAGEANT IS GREATEST IN DIXIE'S HISTORY

Decorations More Original and More Cars Entered—Sousa to Award Prizes.

The great automobile floral parade—the biggest event of its kind in Atlanta's history—got under way Tuesday morning amid the cheers of thousands.

John Philip Sousa and his band of 52 pieces arrived in Atlanta on train No. 35 from New York to fill their engagement at the Automobile Show. They will return at once to Madison Square Garden when the exhibit in Atlanta concludes.

By wire Sousa accepted the position of grand marshal of the parade and also consented to award the prizes for the most attractively and most originally decorated automobile.

A glimpse at some of the gayly-decked cars gave promise of the most spectacular and most beautiful pageant that Atlanta ever had witnessed. The route decided upon by the parade committee, of which J. K. Gwinnett is chairman, was on Whitehall and Peachtree streets to the Georgian Terrace and return.

Fine Prizes Offered.

A fine list of prizes has been offered by the committee. The first prize for the best decorated car consists of two Racine Tread and Two Racine Country Tread non-skid tires valued at $155. The other prizes are in decreasing value.

A special prize has been offered for the car showing the most originality in its decoration, and another for the car having the prettiest occupants.

Here is the committee of parade judges:

Colonel Robert J. Lowry, Colonel W. L. Peel, R. F. Maddox, Wilmer L. Moore, Walter Rich, Forrest Adair and Colonel Frederic J. Paxson.

The seven men who will pilot one of the most beautiful and most original decorations will have the balcony of the Capital City Club as a reviewing stand. This will give them two opportunities of seeing the parade, once as it goes out Peachtree street and again as it returns.

Prize for Undecorated Car.

Because of the difficulty of obtaining the decorating materials, another prize was offered at the last moment to the best kept car undecorated. This prize is a Stromberg carburetor given and installed free by the Johnson-Gewinnet Company.

The auto show opened Tuesday with every available foot of space taken. During the night several automobiles delayed in transit from the factory to Atlanta were taken into the building, and Tuesday found them standing in place as though they had been there since the show began.

Two of them were Oldsmobiles from the factory in Lansing, Mich. Late Monday a Kirt a Chalmers, a Hudson and a King were added to the exhibits. This filled out the list of cars to be shown.

The lighting in the main auditorium was made more brilliant Tuesday by the installation of more than 100 additional lights about the periphery which has been erected above the boxes.

STARTS LONG CAMPAIGN.

DALTON, Nov. 11.—In spite of the fact that the election for county officials is nearly a year distant, "Uncle Joe" Smith, a highly respected resident of this city, has begun his campaign for County Treasurer.

SOCIETY DISPLAYS KEEN INTEREST IN DOG SHOW

Mrs. W. M. Stephenson and her beautiful dog entry, Dan Woodland.

Atlanta society is displaying marked interest in the dog show, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, and a big list of entries has already been made. Some very rare and handsome dogs have been entered. The entries close Wednesday.

The Home for Incurables, one of Atlanta's worthiest charities, is the beneficiary of the show, which begins Friday, continuing through Saturday, at No. 126 Peachtree street.

One of the handsomest dogs entered is "Reliance of the Crag," a magnificent white English terrier, whose owner, Mrs. Richard C. Congdon, already possesses nearly 50 ribbons won by him in former shows. "Crag," as he is called, won the prize for being the second best dog in a Madison Square Garden show, and is a true aristocrat having been bred in the famous Crag kennels near Ottawa, Canada. Mrs. W. M. Stephenson has a beautiful entry. Mrs. Mildred King has entered her magnificent Boston terrier, worth almost $100 in gold, and Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes will show several very fine English bulldogs.

Mrs. Bates Block and Miss Jane Crandall have entered their pets, Cocker spaniels and Boston terriers, which will be shown by Miss Harriet Calhoun, Miss Carolyn King, Mrs. John Kiser and Stuart Witham. Mrs. James L. Dickey, Jr., whose French poodle is often seen seated beside her in her electric, will also compete for one of the many handsome prizes offered.

Among the handsome Scotch collies entered are those owned by Mrs. J. R. A. Hobson and Mrs. Preston Arkwright. Frank Inman has entered his fine setters, and Mrs. Hugh Bancker will display her beautiful French poodles.

The show will be given under the auspices of the Atlanta Kennel Club, of which Winthrop Nunnally is president and W. M. Stephenson, vice president.

Death of Athlete Reveals His Secret Wedding to Singer

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—Wayman P. Harmon, reputed to have been the best athlete the University of Georgia ever turned out, who died in Colorado last week, kept his marriage to a pretty concert singer, Miss Adie Ritchie, of Canton, Ill., secret for two years. His family in Savannah learned of it when the body was brought here for interment.

Young Harmon married Miss Ritchie at Pueblo, Colo., two years ago, when he went West in the hope of successfully battling tuberculosis. The parents on both sides objected and they were married secretly.

To Fight Pardon for Mallory Bedingfield

MACON, Nov. 11.—Friends of Ferd Guttenberger, who was mistaken for a burglar and shot last December, will appear before Governor Slaton in opposition to the application for a pardon for Mallory Bedingfield, a well-known Macon business man, who is now in jail ready to begin his sentence of a year on the State farm for the shooting.

The Prison Commission has recommended that Bedingfield's sentence be reduced to a fine of $100, and this has stirred the friends of Mr. Guttenberger to action. Judge W. D. Nottingham will head the delegation.

Perry-Plant Shoe Suit Again on Trial

The suit of George H. Perry, Atlanta shoe man, against the Thomas G. Plant Company, of Boston, shoe manufacturers, which has been on trial before Judge Ellis, probably will last several days more.

Perry is suing for $2,000, which he claims is due him on a 50 per cent division of the net profits made by a shoe department in a leading Whitehall street store maintained by the Plant Company and managed by him. The case has been in the courts since May, 1911.

bile parade ever held in Atlanta made triumphant progress Tuesday, demonstrating graphically and attractively the genuine prosperity of the Gale City of the South.

Several hundred cars, beautifully decorated with natural and artificial flowers, were in the long line that streamed through the heart of the city, starting at 10 a. m.

The long line, delayed in starting by the wait for the train that was bringing John Philip Sousa, got slowly under way shortly before noon, and moved northward on Whitehall street.

Band Rides on Truck.

The pace was set to the martial strains of the Fifth Regiment Band on a huge motor truck that ambled along with a sort of majestic dignity under its blaring bugles.

Conspicuous among the decorations was the "Oak Forest" car, in which little Miss June Beauvais, crowned like a true nymph of the forest, conveyed the "Greeting of the Woods" to Atlanta's great motor show. The car was a splendid bank of autumn leaves of the richest coloring.

Then there was a gorgeous car of pink and white, driven by Mrs. P. T. Heath, its occupants in white coats; and the "Votes for Women" car, carrying Mrs. Mary L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage Association, and the tall banner of the order.

NORTH IS HIT BY TERRIFIC BLIZZARD

Gale Leaves Trail of Death Over Lakes and Throughout the Middle West.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 11.—A. M.—Cleveland has been completely isolated from the outside world for two days, during which time the city has been rent by a 60-mile wind and is wrapped now in a blanket of snow from four to ten feet deep.

Many lives have been lost—how many it is not known—and there are scores of children and others missing. Lack of food has added to the suffering. Meat markets and grocery stores, after exhausting their supplies, have closed their doors.

Street car traffic has been practically at a standstill, and telephone and light wires are lying on the ground all over the city, where they were thrown by the terrific storm of Sunday and Sunday night.

Train service on all lines is demoralized.

100 Dead in Gale Over Great Lakes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—How many lives were lost in the storm which swept the upper Great Lakes and wrecked many boats likely will not be known for several days. To-day it was estimated that at least 100 have been lost in the gale.

It was known that a large freighter, probably carrying 40 men, was overturned in Lake Huron. An unidentified steamer was being pounded to pieces on the rocks of Manitou Island.

In Detroit a barge was smashed against the shore and eight men were drowned. Scores of small boats were reported wrecked, although no definite news could be obtained as to possible fatalities.

The storm had abated to-day, although Lake Michigan was still rough. Men were put at work repairing damage done to Lincoln Park improvements along the lake front.

Overturned Ship Seen Floating in Huron.

PORT HURON, MICH., Nov. 11.—A large steel freighter, overturned and floating down, was sighted about eight miles off this port late last night. It is believed she is a 600-footer and must have carried a crew of at least 40 men. It is believed all of them were lost.

Melting Snow Likely To Cause Big Flood.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 11.—Deep snow still covered all of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia to-day.

Passengers arriving from Cleveland, after spending more than 30 hours on the trip, told of much suffering from cold and hunger, while stalled by one of the largest snow drifts ever known in this section of the country.

To-day fear was entertained that a sudden rise in temperature would cause all the snow to melt quickly and swell every waterway to flood stage.

FIVE POINTS SCENE OF BATTLE

Money Brokers Agree to Settle Old Scores in Combat at Busy Corner.

A large crowd around Five Points witnessed an exciting fist fight Tuesday morning between Police Commissioner A. R. King and his brother R. W. King on one side and E. W. Greenway and a friend on the other. The fight was a little late in arriving and did not get into the actual fight.

The decision of the spectators was wholly in favor of the King brothers, who appeared to have the best of the milling all the way.

The contestants are all money brokers and the difficulty started over a statement of Greenway's which Police Commissioner King branded as false. He stalked to Greenway over the telephone early Tuesday morning and both agreed to come into town on the 8:30 Inman Park car and settle the difference at Five Points.

Greenway did not catch the car, but called Commissioner King at his office in the Fourth National Bank Building over the telephone. They decided to meet immediately.

Politics is Blamed.

"The beginning of the fight was not clear. In a matter of seconds after the meeting both men were passing fast and furious blows.

Greenway was in for a severe drubbing when the police interfered. Commissioner King then demanded that cases be made and that he be furnished with a copy of charges. Copies were furnished to the King brothers and Greenway.

Old Scores Settled.

"The difficulty, it seems, is in the nature of a settlement of old scores. The brokers have had wordy battles on previous occasions. Greenway's office is in the Austell Building.

CADETS ARE HURRIED TO HALT FLAMES

Milner Residence in College Park Burns as Occupants Watch Auto Parade.

More than 100 students of the Georgia Military Academy in College Park left their classrooms Tuesday morning to fight a fire that demolished the residence of J. M. Milner and partially burned the handsome home of E. D. Barrett, adjoining it on Cambridge Avenue. An aggregate loss of $25,000 was estimated.

Owing to the work of the boys, in conjunction with the fire departments of College Park and East Point, most of the movable furniture of the Milner home was saved.

Mr. Milner and his family were in Atlanta viewing the automobile parade when the fire broke out. No explanation of its origin could be given. The blaze was first discovered by pedestrians after it had turned the corner of the two-story frame house into a roaring furnace. Alarms were sent in to both the College Park fire department and that of East Point. Hundreds of persons attracted by the excitement which followed gathered before the big fire.

Volunteers Called.

Owing to the terrific gale which fanned the blaze, carrying large pieces of burning timbers over the neighborhood, there was great apprehension that the fire would spread. A general call was sent out for volunteers.

When the call reached the military academy a hasty order was sent throughout the buildings disbanding the classes and ordering the boys to the aid of the firemen. The two blocks which separated the school from the scene of the fire was made in double quick time by the students, and with renewed force the fight upon the fire was projected.

With agility the young men scrambled through windows and doors of the burning building, in the face of the flames, and shot back with articles of furniture, clothing and valuables.

Bucket Brigade Formed.

It was discovered that the Barrett residence had caught from flying embers, and the fight was turned in that direction. Many of the students formed a bucket brigade and augmented the streams of water pouring from the fire departments' hoses. Others, at the risk of their lives, climbed upon the roof of the Barrett home, where small flames had taken root, and were passed hose which they directed as ably as a professional fireman.

When the fire was finally extinguished, a rousing cheer was given the cadets by the throngs as they marched back to their classrooms.

Four Homes Burned, Two Others Damaged.

Members of four families had narrow escapes from death; four houses were destroyed and two others badly damaged in fires in three different sections of the city Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock. The home of W. H. Davidson, No. 17 Marion avenue, was burned to the ground, a house occupied by J. T. Bass, next door at No. 19 Marion street, was badly damaged and a hole was burned in the roof of

Row Brews in State Militia

GEN. OBEAR OBJECT OF ATTACK

Captain Frank McIntyre of Savannah Accuses Quartermaster and Instructor of Guard.

Reports of a sensational row brewing inside the Georgia Military Department have reached Atlanta from Savannah, and if they prove true in their present detail of apparently authoritative rumor, an all-round shake-up may result of their airing.

Captain Frank McIntyre, commanding the Savannah Hussars, Savannah's crack military organization, and Major W. B. Stevens, of the First Regiment, are known to be very much at outs with General William G. Obeare, of the Quartermaster's Department, and Major Frederick Palmer, of the Bureau of Instruction, and are reported to have expressed a determination to file within the next few days specific charges of official discrimination, in the distribution of supplies and equipment, against the Savannah military organizations of which they are members.

These charges, if filed and found to be well founded, may result in a general court-martial, assembled by the Governor as commander-in-chief, for the purpose of a rigid investigation. Questioned to-day about these persistent reports, Adjutant General Joseph VanHolt Nash denied any official knowledge of a pending investigation or filing of charges, but rather guardedly admitted that he was fully cognizant of ill feeling between the officers named.

He was inclined to think rumors of specific charges against Obeare and Palmer at his time to be the outgrowth, perhaps, of "armory gossip," but stated that it might or might not be more serious.

Trouble's Origin Is Old.

The general stated that this trouble was one of ancient origin, and said it had been smoldering for months—in fact, long before he came into office. Whatever may be the outcome of this talk, if anything, the present administration will figure in it only to the extent of being the vehicle through which any investigation of charges against person or persons connected with the Military Department must necessarily be conducted. Several months ago an effort was made by General Obeare and Major Palmer to have Captain McIntyre court-martialed for a form of insubordination. Captain McIntyre, it seems, had complained in public of various acts of discourtesy toward him from the two Atlanta officers, and to have stated that he, being a volunteer, did not propose to stand either for "rough treatment" or "rough language" from anybody, no matter how high said anybody might think himself in military circles.

Some rather peppery correspondence between McIntyre and Obeare, and incidentally Major Palmer, culminated in an unsuccessful effort to have McIntyre court-martialed.

Court-martial Refused.

Governor Joseph M. Brown, who then occupied the executive office, flatly refused to order an official investigation into the alleged insubordination of McIntyre.

Since that time General Obeare has been succeeded in the Adjutant General's office by General VanHolt Nash, who was appointed after the McIntyre court-martial effort. In the meantime the ill feeling between Obeare and McIntyre is said to have waxed warmer and warmer.

General Obeare holds his office under the appointment and at the pleasure of the Governor, and Major Palmer, who is a retired United States army officer, is under the direction of General Nash.

Both are subject to court-martial proceedings, however, in the event charges filed against them in the Adjutant General's Department are considered worthy of being given such direction.

The present Adjutant General is extremely reluctant to discuss the differences of opinion said to be existing between the Savannah officers and the Atlanta department heads, but he does not deny knowledge of trouble, as stated.

General Obeare has been in the service of the State Military Department for years, part of the time as Adjutant General, but more generally as Quartermaster General. Major Palmer also has been serving the State for a number of years as instructor of troops.

Demand for Story Of Evelyn Thaw Exceeding Supply

Are you reading the Evelyn Thaw story which is being published weekly in The Sunday American? Of course you are, so you can appreciate how it would feel to miss an installment of that vitally interesting narrative. In a letter signed by Glynn Sumner and C. D. Bohannon, both of Sumner, Ga., complaint is made that The Sunday American is so much in demand in that city that it is impossible for the newsboys to supply the papers. "We are interested in the Evelyn Thaw story," the letter says. "We are patrons of the newsboys, but on last Sunday they disposed of all the papers before we could get one. We are enclosing five cents in stamps, for which please send us the issue we missed."

U. S. Tars Victims Of Smooth Italian

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN. ROME, Nov. 11.—One thousand American bluejackets of the battleships Utah, Delaware, Ohio and Vermont to-day found they were poorer by $12,000. The money had been turned over to a muscician, named Camarazzo, who formerly had belonged to the band on the Utah. He had guaranteed to get them a special train for an excursion to Rome and an audience with the Pope. When the men obtained shore leave here they could not find the former bandman or their money.

Packer Morris Left $20,000,000 Estate

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Edward Morris, the packer who died several days ago, left an estate valued at about $20,000,000, according to a petition filed by the executors in Probate Court to-day. The disposition of the estate desired by Mr. Morris as expressed in the petition showed the unusual confidence the packer had in his wife, Mrs. Helen Swift Morris. Mrs. Morris' word will be supreme in deciding all questions which are in dispute among the board of executors.

Methodists Deny Debt of $750,000

DECATUR, ILL., Nov. 11.—Charges in a number of church publications that the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Church was $750,000 in debt were strongly denied at the annual world-wide conference of bishops and laymen of that church here. The treasurer's report when read showed this rumor to be founded on two items, one of $474,000 loaned to foreign mission fields on good security and paying interest, and the other being $350,000, which is borrowed from banks each year until the payments of the money come in after the April conference.

Pindell Is Not To Be U. S. Envoy to Russia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson will not appoint Henry M. Pindell, of Peoria, Ill., Ambassador to Russia. This was the accepted view of the situation taken here to-day following a conference at the White House between President Wilson, Secretary of State Bryan and Mr. Pindell.

There were a number of them—cars that looked as if the God of the Turning Leaves had touched them with his wand.

Perhaps the chief was the autumnal chariot in which tiny Miss June Beauvais, her sunny curls crowned like an idyllic Diana of the Forest, conveyed her "Welcome to the Woods" to the great Automobile Show. The car was a massive bank of the richest autumn leaves, glowing with color.

Besides the little queen of the woods in the car were Mrs. L. F. Beauvais, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Daniel and Mrs. Frank Wilby.

In direct contrast to the autumn leaves was a great car banked as with snow, with arches supporting a white canopy which sheltered a brilliant party—Miss Miss Julia Anne Hagan, Miss Margaret Hagan, Miss Sadie Ballew, Miss Verna Ruth Harris, Miss

With a flourish of trumpets, but without John Philip Sousa in the van, Atlanta's great floral automobile parade got under way at 11:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, and, leaving the rendezvous at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets, swept northward on Whitehall to the accompaniment of cheers and hand-clapping from thousands of spectators.

Minus the "March King," who was going to appear in the role of honored guest only, the parade advanced to the sprightly music of the Fifth Regiment Band, on a prodigious motor truck, and blaring merrily.

Several hundred cars, parked along Mitchell street to the Plaza, swung into line, and the kaleidoscopic pageant began its journey out Peachtree street to the Georgian Terrace and return, past the expectant judges waiting at the Capital City Club.

Warmer Weather To Follow Record Cold Wave Period

After sending the mercury in the official thermometers at the Weather Bureau down to 24 degrees at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, establishing a new record for cold weather at this period of the year, the weather gods have relented a bit, and warmer weather is in sight. Forecaster VonHermann, in his prognostication Tuesday, says that Wednesday will be fair and much warmer. The mercury is due to reach a maximum temperature of 50 or 60 Wednesday, and Wednesday night there will be no frost. The warm weather is to continue the rest of the week, according to the weather man. No rain is in sight.

BIG THROG SEES HOT FISTIC BOUT

King and Rival Money Broker Go Five Rounds, but Policeman Is Victor.

A large crowd of spectators were entertained with an exciting fist fight at Five Points Tuesday when Police Commissioner A. R. King and E. W. Greenway, competing money brokers, neighbors and brothers-in-law, decided to settle acute domestic and business differences by getting "personal satisfaction" through pounding each other.

The affair was all prearranged, according to the stories of both parties. Waking warm in a telephone conversation with Greenway shortly before 8 o'clock, King challenged him for a bout at Five Points; and Greenway, equally miffed, accepted; an arrangement which afterward proved extremely gratifying to a multitude of "fans" who gathered around.

All Belligerents Satisfied.

The bout was called after five rounds by two police officers who were long delayed in breaking through the cordon that surrounded the ring in front of the Fourth National Bank Building. Both men said they had their fill of satisfaction, and both claimed victory. "The nearest thing to a verdict by disinterested spectators was the furnishing of 'copies of charges' to both contestants, which amounts to a recommendation to Recorder Broyles to render the final decision.

The first arrangements of the affair, which grew out of animosities of long standing, but which both of the principals refused to touch on except vaguely, had to be changed on account of an unforeseen delay. Mr. King lives at No. 32 Moreland avenue, and Mr. Greenway at No. 184 Whiteford avenue, so near that they catch the same street car.

Mr. King had called Mr. Greenway over the telephone in regard to a statement by Greenway which he said was not true. They agreed to catch the 8:05 Inman Park car, ride downtown in the same car in peace and get off at Five Points and settle the matter. Mr. King caught the car, but Greenway did not, and it looked as though the whole affair was off.

Challenge Is Renewed.

No sooner had Mr. King cooled down and started to work in his office in the Fourth National Bank Building than his telephone rang loudly.

"You didn't meet me," said a voice he recognized as Greenway's.

"You didn't keep your word," answered King, his smoldering wrath rising again.

"I missed my car," returned Greenway, "but I'll meet you now."

"All right," answered King. "Where are you now?"

"In a friend's office," answered Greenway.

Thinking that Greenway would have a second, Commissioner King asked his brother, R. W. King, to go along.

In front of the Fourth National Bank Building they met.

Spar for Opening. Round 1—King and Greenway rushed up to each other. "You've got to retract that statement," said King, pointing his finger at Greenway.

"If you want to fight, here I am," answered Greenway. The passing throngs of men stopped and gathered around. Many women hurried away.

Round 2—King and Greenway were within arms' reach of each other, and King shot a heavy right at his opponent's face. Greenway countered with a right to the body. Both men stood several feet farther apart than at the beginning.

Round 3—They flew at each other with the fury of two cats swung over

CONTRIVERSY BREWING IN MILITIA

AUTO PRIZES
TODAY

Sousa Will Announce Winners of Parade Trophies at Show in Auditorium.

John Philip Sousa, the noted bandmaster, will announce the names of the prize winners in the automobile parade at the Auditorium Tuesday night when his week's concert there at the South's Greatest Automobile Show.

Not until then will the names of the winners become known officially.
In the parade, each automobile bore a number and through that identification the judges stationed in review at the Capital City Club indicated their decisions. Owners of the cars which won the winning numbers will present themselves at the Auditorium Tuesday night; their names will be announced by Mr. Sousa and the prizes awarded.

No. 55, an automobile owned by L.
Daniel, won the prize for being the most original.

No. 93 was declared the best kept machine.

No. 7, the second best decorated.
No. 2, the third best decorated.

No. 34 contained the prettiest girls.
The prize for the most original car was two Ajax tires, valued at $71.40.

For the best kept machine, a car-bonator.

For the best decorated car, first prize, Two Racine trusty thread and two Racine country thread non-skid tires, valued at $155; second prize, two Empire tires, valued at $88.18 and $25 in cash; third prize, one Kelly-Springfield tire, valued at $46.70 and $25 in cash.

For the car containing the prettiest girls, one G. and chain-thread tire, valued at $35.30, and a specially prepared box of Nunnally's candy to each occupant.

With a flourish of trumpets, but without John Philip Sousa in the van, Atlanta's great floral automobile parade got under way at 11:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, and, leaving the rendezvous at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets, swept northward on Whitehall to the accompaniment of cheers and hand-clapping from thousands of spectators.

Minus the "March King," who was going to appear in the role of honored guest only, the parade advanced to the sprightly music of the Fifth Regiment Band, on a prodigious motor truck, and blaring mightily.

Several hundred cars, parked along Mitchell street to the Plaza, swung into line, and the kaleidoscopic parade began its journey out Peachtree street to the Georgian Terrace and return, past the expectant judges, waiting at the Capital City Club.

Weather Was Ideal.

For his part, the weather man had done wonders. The air was sharp with the tang of late autumn, but a genial sun mellowed the chill, and glory to the garishness of the cars, touching with a special charm these decorated in autumn leaves and glam and products of the Georgia hills.

There were a number of them--cars that looked as if the God of the Farming Leaves had touched them with wand.

Perhaps the chief was the autumnal car in which tiny Miss June Barnes, her sunny curls crowned with an egret Diana of the Forest, answered her "Welcome to the Foods" to the great Automobile Show. The car was a massive bank of the richest autumn leaves, glowing with color.

Besides the little queen of the woods in the car were Mrs. L. F. Beauvais and Mrs. L. J. Daniel and Miss Hank Wilby.

In direct contrast to the autumn car was a great car banked as with snow, with arches supporting a white snopy which sheltered a brilliant party--little Miss Julia Anne Hagin, Miss Margaret Hagin, Miss Sadie
Hagin, Miss Verna Ruth Harris, Miss Hagin.

SLATON TALKS TO CORDELE CROWDS

Wife of the Governor Also Makes Speech at Silver Anniversary Celebration.

CORDELE, GA., Nov. 11.—Governor
Slaton addressed an immense audience at the public school auditorium here this morning upon the occasion of Cordele's silver anniversary celebration. His speech was principally along the lines of the unprecedented prosperity that Georgia is experiencing at this time. This prosperity, declared the Governor, was best evidenced by the splendid agricultural exhibits at the State Fair at Macon and the various county fairs that he has visited recently.

Following the aeroplane flights by Captain A. C. Beech this afternoon, the Governor delivered an address to the enormous crowds that witnessed this event. Mrs. Slaton spoke this morning for half an hour at the school auditorium, touching very forcibly upon the progress made by Georgia women in civic improvement and related lines.

Colonel D. A. R. Crum delivered an address on Cordele's early history and the progress of the city.

The speakers were introduced by Secretary Louis Spencer Daniel, of the Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that fully 9,000 people are here to take part in the silver anniversary.

Illiteracy Law's Chief
Enemy, Says Broyles

Illiteracy is one of the chief causes of lawlessness in Georgia, according to Recorder Broyles. He made this declaration Tuesday morning in discussing his address of Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Toccoa.

The Recorder told the Toccoa audience that illiteracy and whisky are at the bottom of lawlessness, and that the eradication of these two evils will produce a "better Georgia."

GEN. OBEAR OBJECT OF ATTACK

Captain Frank McIntyre of Savannah Accuses Quartermaster and Instructor of Guard.

Reports of a sensational row brewing inside the Georgia Military Department have reached Atlanta from Savannah, and if they prove true in their present detail of apparently authoritative rumor, an all-round shake up may result of their airing.

Captain Frank McIntyre, commanding the Savannah Hussars, Savan-nah's crack military organization, and Major W. B. Stevens, of the First Regiment, are known to be very much at odds with General William G.
Obear, of the Quartermaster's Department, and Major Frederick Palmer, of the Bureau of Instruction, and are reported to have expressed a determination to file within the next few days specific charges of official discrimination, in the distribution of supplies and equipment, against the Savannah military organizations of which they are members.

These charges, if filed and found to be well founded, may result in a general court-martial, assembled by the Governor as commander-in-chief, for the purpose of a rigid investigation.

Questioned to-day about these persistent rumors, Adjutant General Joseph VanHolt Nash denied any official knowledge of a pending investigation or filing of charges, but rather guardedly admitted that he was fully conscious of ill feeling between the officers named.

He was inclined to think rumors of specific charges against Obear and Palmer at his time to be the outgrowth, perhaps, of "army gossip," but stated that it might or might not be more serious.

Trouble's Origin Is Old.

The general stated that this trouble was one of ancient origin, and said it had been smoldering for months—in fact, long before he came into office.

"Whatever may be the outcome of this talk, if anything, the present administration will figure in it only to the extent of being the vehicle through which any investigation of charges against person or persons connected with the Military Department must necessarily be conducted."

Several months ago an effort was made by General Obear and Major Palmer to have Captain McIntyre court-martialed for a form of insubordination. Captain McIntyre, it seems, had complained in public of various acts of disc retesy toward him from the two Atlanta officers, and to have stated that he, being a volunteer, did not propose to stand either for "rough treatment" or "rough language" from anybody, no matter how high said
"anybody" might think himself in military circles.

Some rather peppery correspondence between McIntyre and Obear, and incidentally Major Palmer, culminated in an unsuccessful effort to have McIntyre court-martialed.

Court-martial Refused.

Governor Joseph M. Brown, who then occupied the executive office, flatly refused to order an official investigation into the alleged insubordination of McIntyre.

Since that time General Obear has been succeeded in the Adjutant General's office by General VanHolt Nash, who was appointed after the McIntyre court-martial effort. In the meantime the ill feeling between Obear and Mc-Intyre is said to have waxed warmer and warmer.

General Obear holds his office under the appointment and at the pleasure of the Governor, and Major Palmer, who is a retired United States army officer, is under the direction of General Nash.

Both are subject to court-martial proceedings, however, in the event charges filed against them in the Adjutant General's Department are considered worthy of being given such direction.

The present Adjutant General is extremely reluctant to discuss the differences of opinion said to be existing between the Savannah officers and the Atlanta department heads, but he does not deny knowledge of trouble, as stated.

General Obear has been in the service of the State Military Department for years, part of the time as Adjutant General, but more generally as Quartermaster General. Major Palmer also has been serving the State for a number of years as instructor of troops.

Warmer Weather
To Follow Record
Cold Wave Period

After sending the mercury in the official thermometers at the Weather Bureau down to 24 degrees at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, establishing a new record for cold weather at this period of the year, the weather gods have relented a bit, and warmer weather is in sight.

Forecasters VonHerrmann, in his prognostication Tuesday, says that Wednesday will be fair and much warmer.
The mercury is due to reach a maximum temperature of 50 or 55 Wednesday, and Wednesday night there will be no frost. The warm weather is to continue the rest of the week, according to the weather man. No rain is in

Methodists Deny
Debt of $750,000

DECATUR, ILL., Nov. 11.—Charges in a number of church publications that the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Church was $750,000 in debt were strongly denied at the annual world-wide conference of bishops and laymen of that church here.

The treasurer's report when read showed this rumor to be founded on no basis, one of $174,000 loaned to foreign mission fields on good security and paying interest, and the other being $250,- 000, which is borrowed from banks each year until the payments of the money come in after the April conference.

King and Rival Money Broker Go
Five Rounds, but Policeman Is Victor.

A large crowd of spectators were entertained with an exciting fist fight at Five Points Tuesday when Police Commissioner A. R. King and E. W.
Greenway, competing money brokers, neighbors and brothers-in-law, decided to settle acute domestic and business differences by getting "personal satisfaction" through pounding each other.

The affair was all prearranged, according to the stories of both parties.
Waxing warm in a telephone conversation with Greenway shortly before 8 o'clock, King challenged him for a bout at Five Points; and Greenway equally miffed, accepted; an arrangement which afterward proved extremely gratifying to a multitude of "fans" who gathered around.

All Belligerents Satisfied.

The bout was called after five rounds by two police officers who were long delayed in breaking through the cordon that surrounded the ring in front of the Fourth National Bank Building. Both men said they had their fill of satisfaction, and both claimed victory. The nearest thing to a verdict by disinterested spectators was the furnishing of "copies of charges" to both contestants, which amounts to a recommendation to Recorder Broyles to render the final decision.

The first arrangements of the affair, which grew out of animosities of long standing, but which both of the principals refused to touch on except vaguely, had to be changed on account of an unforeseen delay. Mr.
King lives at No. 32 Moreland avenue, and Mr. Greenway at No. 164 Whiteford avenue, so near that they catch the same street car.

Mr. King had called Mr. Greenway over the telephone in regard to a statement by Greenway which he said was not true. They agreed to catch the 8:05 Inman Park car, ride downtown in the same car in peace and get off at Five Points and settle the matter. Mr. King caught the car, but Greenway did not, and it looked as though the whole affair was off.

Challenge Is Renewed.

No sooner had Mr. King cooled down and started to work in his office in the Fourth National Bank Building than his telephone rang loudly.
"You didn't meet me," said a voice
he recognized as Greenway's.

"You didn't keep your word," answered King, his smoldering wrath rising again.

"I missed my car," returned Greenway, "but I'll meet you now."

"All right," answered King. "Where are you now?"

"In a friend's office," answered Greenway.

Thinking that Greenway would have a second, Commissioner King asked his brother, R. W. King, to go along.

In front of the Fourth National Bank Building they met.

Spar for Opening.

Round 1.—King and Greenway rushed up to each other. "You've got to retract that statement," said King, pointing his finger at Greenway.

"If you want to fight, here I am," answered Greenway. The passing throng of men stopped and gathered around. Many women hurried away.
Round 2.—King and Greenway were within arms' reach of each other, and King shot a heavy right at his opponent's face. Greenway countered with a right to the body. Both men stood several feet farther apart than at the beginning.

Round 3.—They flew at each other with the fury of two cats swung over a string.

HOLDS MAN FOUND IN HOME FOR POLICE

Mrs. J. E. Price, No. 454 Courtland St., Points Revolver at Negro and Calls Officers.

Displaying remarkable presence of mind and bravery, Mrs. J. E. Price, No. 454 Courtland street, captured a negro burglar single-handed late Tuesday afternoon and held him at the point of a revolver until the police were notified and arrived on the scene.

Mrs. Price, alone in her home, was attracted by a noise in the bedroom. Entering the darkened room, she saw the negro hiding behind the headpiece of the bed.

Without alarming the burglar, Mrs. Price left the room and secured a revolver from her husband's trunk. After inspecting the weapon to see that it was loaded, she returned to the bedroom and pointing the gun at the negro, demanded that he come forth.

Leaves Hiding Place.

When the man emerged from his hiding place, Mrs. Price ordered him to hold up his hands and then directed that he march in front of her to the front porch.

Mrs. Price summoned B. B. Gunn, No. 123 East Twelfth street, as he passed and asked that he summon the police. When Call Policemen Palmer and Milam arrived Mrs. Price was sitting calmly in her front room with the negro, his back turned towards her, sitting ten paces off. The revolver was lying in his captor's lap.

At the police station the negro gave his name as Joshua Freeman and said he lived at No. 260 Piedmont avenue.

SLATON TALKS TO CORDELE CROWDS

Wife of the Governor Also Makes Speech at Silver Anniversary Celebration.

CORDELE, GA., Nov. 11.—Governor Slaton addressed an immense audience at the public school auditorium here this morning upon the occasion of Cordele's silver anniversary celebration. His speech was principally along the lines of the unprecedented prosperity that Georgia is experiencing at this time. This prosperity, declared the Governor, was best evidenced by the splendid agricultural exhibits at the State Fair at Macon and the various county fairs that he has visited recently.

Following the aeroplane flights by Captain A. C. Beech this afternoon, the Governor delivered an address to the enormous crowds that witnessed this event. Mrs. Slaton spoke this morning for half an hour at the school auditorium, touching very forcibly upon the progress made by Georgia women in civic improvement and related lines.

Colonel D. A. R. Crum delivered an address on Cordele's early history and the progress of the city.

The speakers were introduced by Secretary Louis Spencer Daniel, of the Chamber of Commerce.

It is estimated that fully 9,000 people are here to take part in the silver anniversary.

Wilson's Old Home To Remember Bride

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 11.—In fond recollection of the days when President Wilson made his home in Columbia, the people of this city will send to Miss Jessie Wilson, the White House bride-to-be, a handsome wedding gift, costing several hundred dollars. The money now is being subscribed.

Free Examination to Feature Welfare Show

Preparations for the Child Welfare and Health Exhibit in Atlanta December 1 to 15, under the auspices of the Associated Charities, are nearing completion.

A feature of the exhibit will be the health conference directed by leading physicians. All mothers will be requested to bring their children to this show for free examination.

ROW BREWS AUTO PRIZES IN GEORGIA MILITIA

TO-NIGHT

Parade Trophies at Show in Auditorium.

John Philip Sousa, the noted bandmaster, will announce the names of the prize winners in the automobile parade at the Auditorium Tuesday night when his week's concert there at the South's Greatest Automobile Show.

Not until then will the names of the winners become known officially. In the parade, each automobile bore a number and through that identification the judges stationed in review at the Capital City Club indicated their decisions. Owners of the cars which bore the winning numbers will present themselves at the Auditorium Tuesday night; their names will be announced by Mr. Sousa and the prizes awarded.

Numbers of Winners.

No. 85, an automobile owned by L. J. Daniel, won the prize for being the most original.
No. 98 was declared the best kept machine.
No. 7, the second best decorated.
No. 2, the third best decorated.
No. 84 contained the prettiest girls. The prize for the most original car is two Ajax tires, valued at $71.40.
For the best kept machine, a car-buretor.
For the best decorated car, first prize: Two Racine trusty thread and two Racine country thread non-skid tires, valued at $156; second prize, two Empire tires, valued at $88.18 and $25 in cash; third prize, one Kelly-Springfield tire, valued at $46.70 and $25 in cash.

For the car containing the prettiest girls, one G. and chain-thread tire, value at $35.30, and a specially prepared box of Nunnally's candy to each occupant.

With a flourish of trumpets, but without John Philip Sousa in the van, Atlanta's great floral automobile parade got under way at 11:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, and, leaving the rendezvous at the corner of Mitchell and Whitehall streets, swept northward on Whitehall to the accompaniment of cheers and hand-clapping from thousands of spectators.

Minus the "March King," who was going to appear in the role of honored guest only, the parade advanced to the sprightly music of the Fifth Regiment Band, on a prodigious motor truck, and blaring mightily.

Several hundred cars, parked along Mitchell street to the Plaza, swung into line, and the kaleidoscopic parade began its journey out Peachtree street to the Georgian Terrace and return, past the expectant judges, waiting at the Capital City Club.

Weather Was Ideal.

For his part, the weather man had done wonders. The air was sharp with the tang of late autumn, but a genial sun mellowed the chill, and lent glory to the garnishment of the cars, touching with a special charm those decorated in autumn leaves and grain and products of the Georgia fields.

There were a number of them—cars that looked as if the God of the Turning Leaves had touched them with his wand.

Perhaps the chief was the autumnal chariot in which Miss June Beauvais, her sunny curls crowned like an idyllic Diana of the Forest, conveyed her "Welcome to the Woods" to the great Automobile Show. The car was a massive bank of the richest autumn leaves, glowing with color.

Besides the little queen of the woods in the car were Mrs. L. F. Beauvais, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Daniel and Mrs. Frank Wilby.

BIG THROG SEES HOT FISTIC BOUT

King and Rival Money Broker Go Five Rounds, but Policeman Is Victor.

A large crowd of spectators were entertained with an exciting fist fight at Five Points Tuesday when Police Commissioner A. R. King and E. W. Greenway, competing money brokers, neighbors and brothers-in-law, decided to settle acute domestic and business differences by getting "personal satisfaction" through pounding each other.

The affair was all prearranged, according to the stories of both parties. Waxing warm in a telephone conversation with Greenway shortly before 8 o'clock, King challenged him for a bout at Five Points; and Greenway, equally mild, accepted; an arrangement which afterward proved extremely gratifying to a multitude of "fans" who gathered around.

All Belligerents Satisfied.

The bout was called after five rounds by two police officers who were long delayed in breaking through the cordon that surrounded the ring in front of the Fourth National Bank Building. Both men said they had their fill of satisfaction, and both claimed victory. The nearest thing to a verdict by disinterested spectators was the furnishing of "copies of charges" to both contestants, which amounts to a recommendation to Recorder Broyles to render the final decision.

The first arrangements of the affair, which grew out of animosities of long standing, but which both of the principals refused to touch on except vaguely, had to be changed on account of an unforeseen delay. Mr. King lives at No. 32 Moreland avenue, and Mr. Greenway at No. 164 Whiteford street, so near that they catch the same street car.

Mr. King had called Mr. Greenway over the telephone in regard to a statement by Greenway which he said was not true. They agreed to catch the 8:05 Inman Park car, ride downtown in the same car in peace and get off at Five Points and settle the matter. Mr. King caught the car, but Greenway did not, and it looked as though the whole affair was off.

Challenge Is Renewed.

No sooner had Mr. King cooled down and started to work in his office in the Fourth National Bank Building than his telephone rang loudly.

"You didn't meet me," said a voice he recognized as Greenway's.

"You didn't keep your word," answered King, his smoldering wrath rising again.

"I missed my car," returned Greenway, "but I'll meet you now."

"All right," answered King. "Where are you now?"

"In a friend's office," answered Greenway.

Thinking that Greenway would have a second, Commissioner King asked his brother, R. W. King, to go along.

In front of the Fourth National Bank Building they met.

Round 1—King and Greenway rushed up to each other. "You've got to retract that statement," said King, pointing his finger at Greenway.

Round 2—King and Greenway were within arms' reach of each other, and King shot a heavy right at his opponent's face. Greenway countered with a right to the body. Both men stood several feet farther apart than at the beginning.

MORE TROOPS START FOR BORDER AS HUERTA'S DEFY OF U. S. REACHES WILSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—General Huerta's statement to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City declaring he will remain in office until new elections are held was received by the State Department to-day from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, the American representative in Mexico City.

Secretary of State Bryan declined to give out the statement here, but admitted that it was "correctly stated in the press dispatches."

As carried by the press dispatches from Mexico City Huerta's statement is a direct defiance of the United States demand that he resign.

United States troops are moving toward the Mexican border to-day. They are sent ostensibly for border patrol duty, but it is expected even by the most optimistic Government officials that they will see duty in Mexico before they return.

At the War Department it was stated that the Fifteenth Cavalry, which is scheduled to relieve the Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, left Fort Meyer, Va., Fort Leavenworth and Chicago for Texas this morning and is expected to report at Fort Bliss by Friday at the latest.

Mating Adequate Force. While War Department officials laid special stress on the statement that this movement was planned a month ago and that it "has nothing to do with possible intervention," it was admitted that the main reason for the transfer of the Fifteenth Cavalry is to give the United States a force adequate for intervention in Northern Mexico if it is decided to take this step.

It has been announced that the Fifteenth Cavalry, which started to-day and the Tenth Cavalry, now at Fort Stanton, Allen, N. M., are to relieve the Second and Fifth Cavalry at Fort Bliss, Texas, and Huachuca, Arizona. It is known, however, that this "relief" will not take place for some time—in other words, that the Second and Fifth will not start northward until it is certain that they will not be needed for service south of the border.

Meanwhile, the transports which are supposed to bring these regiments to New York City will wait, provisioned and equipped, at Galveston, Texas, where they can be utilized either to carry troops at Vera Cruz or to send men to New York.

Admits Situation Grave. President Wilson admitted to callers at the White House to-day that the Mexican situation is grave. No immediate action is expected from the administration, however.

The President neither has written a message to Congress on Mexican affairs nor has any present intention of writing one, he told his callers. General Huerta has not replied to the vigorous request for his resignation, and the United States has not placed any time limit on this reply.

The opinion prevails here that the United States is sounding the European powers on the question of lifting the embargo on arms to the Carranzistas. Great Britain, Germany and France, it is understood, have opposed this move because of the heavy financial loss that would be brought upon its citizens in Mexico through the success of the Constitutional movement. President Wilson, however, is vigorous initiative yet may win European support for his program.

President Undecided. The President entertains doubt as to whether arming the Constitutionalists would insure their success, it is said, but he has reached the conclusion after a conference with Senators Borah, McCumber and others, that this is an integral part of the program which looks to the elimination of Huerta and his regime from power. President Wilson still is determined to oppose intervention unless it is absolutely forced upon him. No recommendations have been made by Envoy Lind to the President. The report that Mr. Lind had advised a demonstration to break off all relations with Mexico was denied at the White House to-day.

Huerta to Restore Congress. Official advice signed by Foreign Minister Mollens, received at the Mexican Embassy to-day, say that the legislative power assumed by President Huerta will be restored to Congress on November 26. The Congress will meet on the results of the recent presidential election and it is decided that the elections failed to express the popular will of the people, which is predicted, the government will arrange for a new ballot.

"The Mexican Government proposes to carry out the promises made not only to the people of Mexico, but to the whole world," said Charge d'Affaires Algeza. "As the public of Mexico realizes, the election was imperfect. Should the Mexican Congress decide, it will call a new election in constitutional form. It will proceed to pacify the nation as an imperative condition to a legal and valid election. The confidence is expressed by my Government that no obstacles will be interposed to complicate the situation or disturb the end to be obtained by a valid choice of President."

Guardsmen Are Held In Indianapolis Until Union Trouble Ends

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 10.—The Indiana National Guardsmen will not be sent back to their homes throughout the State for several days pending settled conditions in Indianapolis.

A further indication of preparedness for emergency pending the drawing up and presentation of the street car unions' demands for settlement of various grievances was the holding in readiness of three large motor cars at police headquarters and 22 reserve policemen.

City and interurban cars were running on practically full schedules to-day.

Organization movements are in progress in the ranks of chauffeurs and various divisions of transportation industries.

When the American Embassy is closed its affairs will be turned over to the Norwegian Minister, it was first understood that Admiral Von Hintze, the German Minister, would act for the United States here, but the admiral pointed out that Norway's interest in Mexico were much smaller than those of Germany, and it would be better for the last named country's representative to assume no more responsibilities.

War preparations are being rushed by the Mexican Government with all possible speed. General Huerta is still playing for time and is likely to delay for some time his formal reply to the United States demand that he resign.

The statement issued to the diplomatic corps here, however, leaves no further doubt as to his attitude. It is within the bounds of possibility that he will never answer the United States at all, but that the American Government will bring all negotiations summarily to an end.

Mr. Lind is beginning to show marked impatience over the Huerta delay. While he will not affirm a report that he has advised Washington to end the delaying act once it is known that he expects a climax within a few hours, Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy expects the matter to drag out for several days, but he will not admit that he expects a favorable outcome.

Reports that the United States would lift the embargo on arms for the Constitutionalists has caused a feeling akin to panic here. The belief is general that if Washington took such action there would be a reign of bloodshed throughout Mexico in which no foreigners would be safe.

Europe to Insist on Guarantees From U. S. Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, PARIS, Nov. 10.—Only certain guarantees from the United States Government will secure the support of the European powers for any policy which President Wilson may adopt toward Mexico. It was announced semi-officially here to-day.

According to this information, the powers have adopted a waiting policy, expecting an American note either to-day or to-morrow. The European governments have agreed not to co-operate until the intentions of President Wilson are fully known, after which the powers will probably open negotiations among themselves relative to the adoption of European policy.

Europe is averse, according to all indications, to giving President Wilson a free hand in dealing with General Huerta unless the United States makes satisfactory guarantees. This attitude is assumed partly in protection of the interests of foreign investments and partly from foreign political interests in the welfare of the Mexican Government.

8,000 Federals March on Torreon. NOGALES, ARIZ., Nov. 10.—Eight thousand Federal troops are marching on Torreon, which is held by Mexican constitutionalists. A battle is expected there within 48 hours. The government troops have been ordered to give no quarter, because of the massacre of Federals when Torreon was captured by insurgents.

3 Governors to View Hales Bar Lock Work. CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 10.—Governor Emmet O'Neal, of Alabama, to-day accepted an invitation to attend the celebration marking the completion of the $9,000,000 lock and dam at Hales Bar, Tennessee, November 12.

Governor Ben W. Hooper, of Tennessee, will be another attendant. Governor Clinton of New York, has also virtually agreed to come.

DELAY OF FRANK HEARING IN HIGH COURT DENIED

Case Comes Up at December Term if It Reaches Tribunal by First of Month.

Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold, representing Leo Frank, and E. A. Stephens, representing the Solicitor General, appeared before the Supreme Court to-day, and asked that arguments in the Frank case be postponed until the January term of the court. In the event the bill of exceptions reached the Supreme Court in time for the December call of the docket for argument.

The Supreme Court declined to grant the request, which means that if the case reaches the court before December 1, it will be set for argument on December 15.

If it reaches the court after December 1, however, it automatically will go over to the January term. The plea made to the court by both sides was that more time is needed to prepare the arguments and that it would work more surely to the ends of justice to have the hearing postponed.

The court took the position, however, that it could make no exception in any manner to the regular proceeding in behalf of the Frank case. It was held that it must take its own course with other matters of greater or less importance.

This means that the arguments in the famous case likely will be heard in December, as there is slight probability that the appeal will not reach the highest court of review in the State well in advance of December 15.

And it will not be possible for either side to delay sending the appeal up, unless the side responsible for the delay is ready to account for it by good and sufficient reasons.

Neither side is apt to take any sort of chance with the Supreme Court by giving the matter that direction. Under the ruling of the court, announced to-day, both sides will proceed to prepare for argument in December.

Of course, after the case is argued, it will be from three to nine months before a final decision may be expected.

Park Is Now Both Congressman and Superior Judge

A commission has been made out by the Executive Department and will be forwarded to Judge Frank Park, of Sylvestor, naming him Congressman from the Second District, to succeed Anderson Rosenberry, deceased, notwithstanding the fact that the Executive Department has not yet received Judge Park's resignation as presiding magistrate in the Albany circuit of the Superior Court.

It has been stated, but not officially, that Judge Park likely will not resign his judgeship for some two weeks yet. The Executive Department will send him his commission, anyway. It is entirely with the Congress-elect when he qualifies under it.

The failure of Judge Park to resign, however, holds up the contemplated appointment of Eugene Cox, of Camilla, to the Second District, on the bench, as Cox can not be commissioned until Judge Park resigns.

EXPERT FORESEES BAD, COLD WINTER

on to explain a curious natural phenomenon in the air for months, perhaps for years, and is carried to all parts of the world. And all the time it is interfering with the sun's rays, and absorbing them, and keeping part of the sun's heat from reaching the earth's surface.

"The tremendous eruption of that famous volcano, Krakatoa, in 1882 was made notable in America all through the year 1884 by the wonderful sunsets, the brilliantly colored effects being due to that powdery atmosphere—dust that had been floating two years. Also, the winter of 1885-86 was one of the coldest on record, and the low temperature was ascribed very largely to the dust from that explosion in the East Indies.

So if the winter of 1913-14 proves to be severe beyond the ordinary, Mr. VonHermann will just add another star against the symptom of the November snow—and check off another confirmation of the theory that volcanoes sometimes make things cold as well as hot.

Seven Deaths From Blizzard in North. CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The storm which yesterday and to-day gripped the Central West and parts of the South had caused the death of at least seven persons, the wrecking of many vessels, great delay to all manner of transportation and large property damage.

In Chicago Antone Zupays and an unidentified man were blown from bridges into the river and drowned.

Near North Judson, Ind., Henry Brenlein and two children, their view of a train obscured by the blinding snowstorm, were struck and killed. Otto Landrum, 23, and Harry Smith, 28, of Peru, Ind., were killed by a train. Their bodies were found under a snowdrift.

The storm, which piled the snow high in drifts over several States, has been followed by a severe drop in temperature, which has caused much suffering. Trains in numerous instances have been stalled for many hours.

The storm continued unabated in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio to-day.

At Jacksonville, Fla., the temperature dropped to 43 degrees and in Charleston, S. C., to 41 degrees. At Indianapolis the official temperature minimum was 27 degrees and at Plymouth, Ind., an even foot of snow fell.

BRIDGES SMITH IN CONTROL AT MACON

Miller Aldermen, Though in Majority, Agree to New Mayor's Official Slate.

MACON, Nov. 11.—When Bridges Smith becomes Mayor of Macon tomorrow he will give the most important committee chairmanship within his appointing power to the leader of the faction opposed to him in Council by making Joseph B. Riley chairman of the Finance Committee. As Mr. Riley led the Aldermanic ticket, receiving even more votes than the Mayor, he will also be appointed Mayor Pro Tem, in pursuance of custom.

Other important committee chairmanships to be named by Mr. Smith are R. C. Hazlehurst, of police; F. James Fire department; Dr. W. G. Lee, streets.

Although there is a change in the administration to-morrow, city employees and other officials will not be requested for another month, as their terms do not expire until December 17. Action of the Aldermen-elect who were named on an anti-administration platform in agreeing to retain in office nine of the principal officials of the present administration has subjected them to much criticism from their supporters. Incidentally, it has caused great disappointment among those who were applicants for office under the new city government.

Agree to Mayor's Ticket.
Last week the Aldermen, who were chosen on the Miller ticket, agreed upon men for practically every one of the city offices, and it was understood that another caucus would be held next night to decide definitely on the appointments. However, at a conference with Mayor-elect Smith and the two Aldermen who were elected on his ticket, when the selection of a City Clerk to succeed Mr. Smith was the only matter scheduled for action, nine of Mr. Smith's supporters had been kept in office and the Miller caucus "slate" had been cast to the winds.

Aldermen-elect Riley, Pittman, Stevens and Taylor voted with Mr. Smith and his two Aldermen, Messrs. Hazlehurst and Jones. This is taken to indicate that the Miller Aldermen, as they have been known until now, will not take advantage of their right to arrogate to themselves the appointment of all of the firemen and policemen, but will continue to allow the power to vest in the Mayor, subject to ratification by the whole Council.

Slate of New Officials.
Some of the new administration's officials will be Walter DeFore, City Attorney; Davis S. Jones, City Clerk; Willard Gates, Marshal; Harrison Jones, Treasurer; J. I. Gillard, Engineer; C. H. Humphries, Electrician; W. Hubbard, Sexton; G. F. Alexander, Plumbing Inspector; T. E. Cochran, City Recorder; F. Joe Bishop, Building Inspector; Seymour M. Brown, License Inspector; George W. Ogley, Street Superintendent; L. A. Miller, Fire Chief.

The nominees for Chief of Police, City Physician and Chief Sanitary Inspector have not been agreed upon.

A Government Central Bank Is a Good Democratic Ideal

Mr. Jacob H. Schiff has conferred a distinct service by his speech in regard to currency legislation. One does not have to agree with him in every point to appreciate the value and the illuminating character of his utterances. Mr. Schiff's speech can hardly be considered alarmist. The points that he makes are:

First. That the currency legislation before Congress ought to be completed as speedily as may be, since delay means uncertainty, and uncertainty is always a disturbing influence in the business world.

Second. That, despite the desirability of a prompt conclusion of the currency question, nevertheless sufficient time should be taken to make the new currency measure absolutely sound and effective.

Third. That too protracted deliberation over the currency measure, and too prolonged uncertainty as to what business conditions would be as a result of the currency measure, would probably bring about a business stagnation and a lack of confidence which would result in business depression sufficiently aggravated to be pronounced a panic.

Fourth. That the present administration measure is a modification of the Aldrich bill, and, to a large extent, the product of the monetary commission, of which Senator Aldrich was the head, and that, therefore, he, Mr. Schiff, and other representatives of the great Wall street interests could find less danger in the prompt passage of the administration bill than in delay and the possible failure to pass it.

If the above is a correct analysis of Mr. Schiff's speech, how can anyone criticize his remarks, even if they do not wholly agree with his conclusions?

Undoubtedly and indisputably, the prompt passage of a correct currency bill is desirable and the prompt passage of a correct tariff measure. The continual and protracted disturbance of business does cause business depression, and sufficient business dullness and financial depression have already been caused by the didactic doctrines and the infallible theories of the present pedagogic administration.

Obviously, however, enough time must be given to discussion and deliberation over this currency measure to prevent a serious mistake being made, similar to the mistake made in the tariff act.

The country should not be rushed into a measure which is undemocratic in principle and which will not inure to the benefit of the people, as we were rushed into a measure of tariff reduction which opened our markets to the products of foreign countries without opening foreign markets to the products of our country.

Certainly, for instance, we do not wish to see the country hurried into the adoption of a merely modified Aldrich measure. The people of this country expressed with sufficient emphasis their doubt and disapproval of the Aldrich provisions and the Aldrich intentions.

No matter how honest the purposes of the present builders of the administration bill it is doubtful if a merely reconstructed Aldrich bill will sufficiently satisfy the requirements of the situation or the demands of the progressive elements of the community.

If Mr. Schiff is right, and apparently is right, in stating that the administration bill is merely an outgrowth of the Aldrich recommendations, would it not be better for this presumptively progressive administration to start from another foundation and not merely remodel their structure, but construct a new financial measure from the ground up?

Would it not be better to proceed along the lines of the proposal of Mr. Vanderlip. Would it not be better to adopt the judiciously radical declaration of the Independence Party platform adopted at Chicago in 1908 and reading:

"The Independence Party declares that the right to issue money is inherent in the government AND IT FAVORS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A CENTRAL GOVERNMENT BANK through which the money so issued shall be put into general circulation."

The soundest and most advanced progressive thought of this country has long been in favor of a central, government controlled bank. The established principle and practice of the great Republic of France is expressed in the form of the Bank of France, a central, government controlled bank.

The most thorough and thoughtful, and yet the most advanced opinion in Germany finds expression in the Reichsbank of Berlin, a central, government controlled bank.

The plan is practical, because it is in successful operation in other great and up-to-date nations.

It is democratic and progressive and in accordance with our American ideas and institutions.

A democratic and progressive administration should favor the idea of a central, government controlled bank, and a practical business administration of this government should adopt this plan, especially when the plan has the support not only of the people at large, who will be benefited by it, but of such great bankers as Mr. Vanderlip, who recognize the practicability of this plan and its essential soundness and value.

Mr. Schiff is right when he states that unnecessary delay is dangerous, but he is wrong, so far as the popular interest and inclination are concerned, when he advocates the adoption of the truly democratic proposition of a central, government of the modified Aldrich administration measure.

Mr. Schiff and Mr. Vanderlip should unite in their support controlled bank, conducted not by any clique in the interest of any class, but by the government in the interest of all classes in all sections of the country.

POLITICAL TINGE TO WINECOFF BANQUET

Three Prospective Mayoralty Candidates, Guests of Harrell. Make Significant Remarks.

No one expected any political speeches at the banquet and jollification given at the Hotel Winecoff by Manager Frank Harrell to his friends Monday night. No real political speeches were heard, but the little three-minute talks made by three men who have been mentioned as mayoralty candidates in the next city election meant more than good-natured jesting.

Mayor Woodward, Walter P. Andrews and Forrest Adair were present. In a short speech Mayor Woodward announced that he would be in the thickest of the going at the next election.

Introduced by Toastmaster J. Y. Smith, Colonel Andrews, appointed United States Commissioner to the Mediterranean nations for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, said: "For years I have supported the administration of Jim Woodward, and I have been one of his most ardent admirers. Much, indeed, he has done for Atlanta. I am going away on a mission of importance for my country, and when I return I hope to receive the well wishes of my fellow-people. I introduce to you Forrest Adair, the next Mayor of Atlanta."

Mr. Adair spoke without referring to the race.

Later in the evening Colonel Andrews said that under certain circumstances he would run for Mayor, but could not announce this as a certainty until next summer, when he returns from Europe.

The entertainment was a great success and brought out some of the leading citizens of Atlanta. The dinner could not have been improved upon. Interesting talks were made by Colonel Robert Lowry, Colonel Frederic J. Dixon and Charles L. Light.

GEORGIA WOMEN BEGIN MISSION CONVENTION

Two Thousand Delegates Assemble at Tabernacle—Meeting to Last Through Friday.

Nearly 2,000 women, half of them from out-of-town, assembled in the Baptist Tabernacle at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the twenty-fifth annual session of the Women's Missionary Union, South. The program was designed to last throughout the day, and Wednesday the thirty-first annual meeting of the Georgia Women's Baptist Missionary Union will begin.

Mrs. W. J. Neel, of Cartersville, President of the Executive Board of the Georgia Union, presided at the morning session, and will also occupy the chair at the afternoon meeting. Mrs. Sam D. Jones, of Atlanta, will officiate at the evening session.

At the morning session, the principal address was delivered by Mrs. J. C. Lanier, of West Point, on "A History of the Women's Missionary Union, Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention."

Mrs. A. J. Orme's topic was "Pioneers in the Women's Baptist Missionary Union of Georgia," and at the end of her talk 30 of the oldest members of the union in point of active service, were called to the rostrum, each being applauded as her name was called, and being presented with a white rose.

"Our National Need" was the subject of Miss Kathleen Mallory, of Baltimore, who, with Miss F. E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, N. C. is a guest of Mrs. Sam D. Jones, of Atlanta.

Square Deal Coffee is everything its name implies. Roasted daily and blended in Atlanta.

Indoor Winter Baseball

Hearst's Sunday American and The Atlanta Georgian's "Home Diamond" Enables You to Play at Home

WINTER EVENINGS, with the storm raging outside, will find you looking for amusement as you sit in a comfortable chair before a cozy fire. "Home Diamond" will provide entertainment for you, whether you play it alone or with a partner. Even the onlookers will share the merriment and excitement. Here is an indoor game full of the memories of thrilling finishes and tense situations of the past season's ball games, duplicated play for play with almost uncanny fidelity. "Two down and the bases full," "tied in the ninth" and similar crises occur in a big percentage of the games. Famous plays may also be duplicated and new ideas tried out.

SPECIAL PRICE 50c
With One Heading of Either Hearst's American or The Atlanta Georgian Postage Extra. Weight 30 Ounces.

Only a limited number of these games have been secured and they will be sold by THE HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN AND THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN exclusively. You can't buy them elsewhere at any price and you may not get one at all unless you call or send for it immediately. This is an opportunity that may be withdrawn within a very few days—only prompt action will prevent disappointment. Call for your game TO-DAY.

Some Features of the Game

BALLS.

A batter may "get out" by drawing four balls. Some of the provisions in connection with a "ball" cover a "wild pitch and passed ball;" runner out attempting to steal second; runner safe stealing second or third.

STRIKES.

A strike either may be called or a foul. In conjunction with a strike, a runner may be enabled to steal home or may be put out in the effort to steal third.

HITS.

Singles, two-baggers, three-base hits and home runs are all provided for. Just as in the regular game, three-base hits are scarcer than two-baggers and home runs are not at all common. Frequently a game is played with very little hitting, the batters going out "one, two, three."

BALL ALWAYS ACTIVE NEVER OUT OF SIGHT

OUTS.

Put-outs are indicated, such as "third to first;" "fly to center;" "double play, see out to first," etc. A grown or a cheer, according to one's sympathies, often accompanies a double play with one out.

SCORING.

Indicators are provided to register the runs and hits of the visiting team and similar indicators keep the score for the home team. Indicators for strikes, balls and outs also are provided, and also an inning indicator for each team. Runners on bases are also shown and the team at bat is not overlooked. All these devices are self-contained and neither pencil nor paper is required to score the game.

NO QUIET MOMENTS EVERY MOVE A PLAY

Call to-day at the offices. If you can't call, ascertain from your postmaster the postage on a thirty-ounce game by parcel post from Atlanta to your home town and add it to your remittance of fifty cents and one heading of The American or Georgian.

WILSON NOT TO RECOGNIZE NEW HUERTA AIDES

Acts of Congress Just Elected Will Not Be Held Valid by United States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Acts of the new Mexican Congress will not be recognized by the American Government as valid. This government will take the same attitude toward the newly-elected Senators and Deputies that it has taken toward General Huerta.

This development of the Mexican situation was the feature of the day's developments in the Mexican situation.

Washington observers believed that the crisis will come when the new Congress assembles and tries to gain support from European governments. By this time, unless Huerta is eliminated, President Wilson's policy will include drastic measures. These hinge in great measure on the attitude taken by Europe. As long as Huerta is encouraged by European financial interests he will have a sufficient right to maintain himself in power.

Huerta Lays Plans to Get War Funds.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. MEXICO CITY, Nov. 11.—According to a program outlined to-day by an official close to the Huerta administration, the incoming Mexican Congress will first turn its attention to obtaining funds by means of great oil concessions.

It is probable that the matter of adjudicating the recent election will be postponed until early in December. No immediate action will be taken by Congress on the diplomatic troubles between the United States and Mexico.

Congress also will consider granting large railroad concessions to Belgian promoters, providing for the construction of 5,000 miles of railway in the republic. If the railway and oil concessions go through, the Government undoubtedly will be able to raise an immense fund, which can be used to advantage if war ever breaks out with the United States.

Persistent rumors to-day that General Huerta and General Blanquet were about to leave the country probably originated from arrangements they are making to send their families abroad. They are preparing as best they can for war with the United States and will quit it out to the end, no matter how hopeless.

The runs on the Banco Nacional and Banco Londres y Mexico continued to-day. Soldiers with carbines were stationed at both banks to preserve order. Thousands of depositors drew out all their money.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Three hundred cavalrymen and officers, comprising the "flying squadron" of the Fifteenth United States Cavalry, prepared to-day to leave to-night for the Mexican border.

TWO STORES BURNED. HARTLEM, Nov. 11.—Two stores at Appling county seat of Columbia county, were destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. The stores were those of E. S. Kelly and J. B. Marshall.

MANY IMPERILED BY NIGHT FIRES IN DWELLINGS

Families Are Forced to Flee to Street in Sleeping Attire to Escape Flames.

The home of G. B. Watkins, No. 77 Boulevard terrace.

Three negro houses at No. 18 Arthur street, occupied by Odessa Reid; No. 412 Ira street, occupied by Estelle Arnold; and No. 419 Ira street, vacant, were destroyed.

Four of the families had to flee from their homes in their night clothing, with blankets wrapped around them. I. T. Bass and his family left their home before it caught from the flames that devoured the Davidson home, and awakened Mr. Davidson and his family, and Miss Anna Olson, of New York, a visitor at the Davidson home, just in time to save their lives.

Woman Gives Alarm.

The Watkins home on Boulevard terrace caught fire shortly before 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Watkins was awakened suddenly by the crackle and roar of the flames, and thought the sound came from a burglar trying to gain entrance into the house. She arose from her bed, secured a revolver and then awakened her husband.

Mr. Watkins listened and he too thought a burglar was attempting entrance. He took the revolver and started to investigate. As he opened the bedroom door he was met by a cloud of smoke so thick that he was unable to stand before it.

Flames followed the smoke into the room, and Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were forced to flee into the street, wrapped only in blankets they had snatched from the bed. The flames were extinguished before great damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Miss Olson escaped from their home at No. 17 Marion avenue only a few seconds before the roof crashed in on the rooms they had been occupying. I. T. Bass, living next door at No. 19 Marion avenue, was awakened by the sound of the flames, and he and Mrs. Bass ran into the street. They tried to awaken the Davidson family by knocking on their door and screaming, but were unsuccessful.

Awakened by Pistol Shots.

Then Mr. Bass got his revolver and fired several shots under the window of the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Davidson was sleeping, finally awakening them. The occupants of the house fled into the street in their night clothing, and as they emerged from the house the roof and walls crashed in.

Mr. Bass' house caught fire and was badly damaged before the fire department arrived.

The fire in the three negro houses had gained great headway before it was discovered. It started in the vacant house at No. 419 Ira street, and spread rapidly to No. 412 Ira street and the house just around the corner at No. 18 Arthur street. Odessa Reid and her family, and the family of Estelle Arnold, left the buildings as the walls fell.

Death Sentence for Negro Is Commuted

Willie Jones, negro, condemned to hang Friday at Madison, Tuesday was informed that Governor Slaton had commuted his sentence to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary. Jones killed another negro.

It was because the Judge, the Solicitor and the majority of the jury, and many citizens of Morgan County sought clemency for Jones that Governor Slaton commuted the sentence.

DEATH PROBE CONTINUED.

BUCHANAN, Nov. 11.—The coroner's jury impaneled to hold the inquest over the mutilated body of Sidney Pope, a young white man, found on the Central of Georgia Railway track, a few miles south of here, adjourned until Thursday to continue the investigation.

100 HOMEOPATHS OPEN MEET HERE

Chamber of Commerce Head to Welcome Delegates at Reception at the Ansley.

A hundred members of the Southern Homeopathic Medical Society began a three days' session at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the ballroom at the Hotel Ansley and took up as their first business the election of officers for the ensuing year. At the opening of the assembly, the officers were W. B. Loraine, of Richmond, president; Dr. J. E. Koons, of Danville, first vice president; Dr. J. B. Griffin, of St. Augustine, second vice president; Dr. M. A. Newman, of Norfolk, treasurer; and Dr. Lee Norman, of Louisville, secretary.

The visiting delegates will be officially welcomed to the city Tuesday night by Wilmer L. Moore, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, at a reception in the ballroom of the Hotel Ansley. Dr. Lee Monroe, of Miami, will respond.

The convention will be in session through Thursday. No clinics will be attended, but the meetings will be devoted to the exchange of views and plans for a more compact organization, and general progress, professionally and from a business standpoint.

Escapes Just After His Plea of Guilty

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11.—Roscoe Huff, who had just entered a plea of guilty to a charge of bringing a 10-year-old girl to Columbus from Shawmut, Ala., and passing her as his wife, escaped from the Sheriff's office while court was in session.

A number of persons were in the office and Huff walked out with the crowd.

Indoor Winter Baseball

Hearst's Sunday American and The Atlanta Georgian's "Home Diamond"

Enables You to Play at Home

WINTER EVENINGS, with the storm raging outside, will find you looking for amusement as you sit in a comfortable chair before a cozy fire. "Home Diamond" will provide entertainment for you, whether you play it alone or with a partner. Even the onlookers will share the merriment and excitement. Here is an indoor game full of the memories of thrilling finishes and tense situations of the past season's ball games, duplicated play for play with almost uncanny fidelity. "Two down and the bases full," "tied in the ninth" and similar crises occur in a big percentage of the games. Famous plays may also be duplicated and new ideas tried out.

SPECIAL PRICE 50c
With One Heading of Either Hearst's American or The Atlanta Georgian Postage Extra. Weight 30 Ounces.

Only a limited number of these games have been secured and they will be sold by THE HEARST'S SUNDAY AMERICAN and THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN exclusively. You can't buy them elsewhere at any price and you may not get one at all unless you call or send for it immediately. This is an opportunity that may be withdrawn within a very few days—only prompt action will prevent disappointment. Call for your game TO-DAY.

BALLS.

A batter may "get on" by drawing four balls. Some of the provisions in connection with a "ball" cover a "wild pitch and passed ball," runner out attempting to steal second; runner safe stealing second or third.

STRIKES.

A strike either may be called or a foul. In conjunction with a strike, a runner may be enabled to steal home or may be put out in the effort to steal third.

HITS.

BALL ALWAYS ACTIVE NEVER OUT OF SIGHT

Call to-day at the offices. If you can't call, ascertain from your postmaster the postage on a thirty-ounce game by parcel post from Atlanta to your home town and add to your remittance of fifty cents and one heading of The American or Georgian.

NEARLY 2,000 SOCIETY AND CLUB WOMEN ENDORSE TELEPHONE CURFEW PLAN

As a climax to the crusade inaugurated by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith against the use of the telephone by women after 8 p. m., women's clubs representing nearly 2,000 women of Atlanta and its suburbs have endorsed the movement and declared for the curfew custom.

The latest victory to be won by Mrs. Price-Smith and her cohorts came Monday afternoon when the Atlanta Woman's Club unanimously adopted the custom.

The Atlanta Woman's Club represents more than 500 active, progressive women who are working for the good of the city.

During the last week many other clubs endorsed Mrs. Price-Smith's idea to "ring off" at 8 o'clock until next morning. Among the clubs adopting the motion are the College Park Woman's Club, over 80 members; the East Point Woman's Club, over 10 members; the Decatur Woman's Club, with an enrollment of nearly 70 members.

At the last meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Pioneer Society the motion was brought up by the president, Mrs. J. H. Morgan, and nearly every woman present accepted the motion as a step toward more quiet evenings for the home life. There are nearly 150 members in the Pioneer Society.

The President of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association, representing over 260 members, is co-operating with Mrs. Price-Smith to have the plan become general, and many other local clubs and patriotic societies have expressed their intention of voting to establish the movement.

At the next meeting of the City Federation Mrs. Price-Smith will introduce the motion, and as the president of the City Federation, Mrs. Charles J. Haden has favored the idea, there is little doubt that the plan will be accepted by the federation, with the amendment to make the conversation more businesslike when the phone has to be used and to use the telephone when important business comes up that can not be put off.

"The women of Atlanta have as many things to engage them during the day," said Mrs. Price-Smith, "that it seems but wise that an hour should be set aside for thought and study, and the evening hour seems most fitted for reading and planning for the work of to-morrow."

Besides, it is in the evening that the family gathers and with continued interruptions there is little peace, and satisfaction is to be gotten out of the evening.

"My idea is simply to regulate the time for calling over the telephone when the women are ready for business, and have the time to talk at length. My thought is not to cut out telephoning entirely, but to make it possible for women to have their evenings free with their husbands and families and books."

SPENCER BALKS AT WALKING TO COURT SEE FIST BATTLE

Slayer Demands Country Eggs for Breakfast and Hurried Verdict of Guilty.

WHEATON, ILL., Nov. 11.—Henry Spencer, the confessed murderer of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rextor, to-day refused to leave his cell upon summons to go to court.

Spencer had his breakfast, demanding country eggs, because, as he declared, they are one of the very few products of this world that are on the square. When he was ordered to get ready for the march to the courthouse, Spencer would not submit to being handcuffed, but to make it he had been threatened with force.

"They can pull off that fake just as well without me," insisted the prisoner. "When they get ready to turn in a verdict I will be there with bells on, but it doesn't get me anything to hear all that truck about the churches these fellows attend and how old they are, and whether they would hang an insane man."

Police Board Member and Rival Money Broker Fight Over Business Differences.

a wire. Blows were thick and fast. It looked like a fire or a riot the way the people from all five merging streets were running to the spot.

Round 4—R. W. King interfered. All three belligerents paused and glared at each other.

Round 5—Two husky policemen finally made their way through the dense crowd and pushed the men apart. They were pale and panting, but no blood had been drawn. With a fat policeman between them the fight was over.

A friend of Greenway rushed up to demand what the trouble was. He was about to speak, for he saw his friend's opponent was Police Commissioner King and a candidate for the chairmanship to succeed Carlos H. Mason at that. Mr. King did not give him a chance to speak.

Asks Own Arrest.

"Officer," he said, "give me a copy of charges. I want to be treated as any other man who has a fight on the streets."

The officer gave copies to both the Kings and to Greenway, and the crowd slowly and reluctantly dispersed.

King and his brother, followed by a number of friends, went to their office in the Fourth National Bank Building. Greenway, also accompanied by supporters, went to his place of business, E. W. Greenway & Co., brokers, Austell Building.

Recorder Broyles' duty of passing the decision may be made easier by the fact that all three men are small of stature.

CONLEY STAR AT "BULL PEN" LEVEE

Frank Case Witness Struts Before Dusky Admirers and Annexes Supply of "Makin's."

Quite the hero of the occasion among his dusky compatriots, Jim Conley held high levee Tuesday in the "bull pen" of Judge Ben Hill's courtroom in the Throver Building.

Jim was taken from his cell in the Tower to answer to two indictments, each charging him with being an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mary Phagan in the National Pencil Factory April 28.

As it happened, the pressure of court business was so great that it was impossible to reach Jim's case and he was permitted the whole forenoon to strut and swell around in the circumcised confines of the pen.

Bernard Shaw's "Playboy" found the black prototype in James. Negroes gathered about him in open-mouthed admiration.

Jim absorbed the adulation. He repeated piecemeal some of the startling testimony of which he had delivered himself on the witness stand in the trial of Leo M. Frank. His fellow prisoners listened with an evident degree of awe.

Trading on his prestige, he soon had his pockets bulging with "makin's" and will be able to spend his spare nickels for the cake that they sell at the Tower until his supply of tobacco gives out again.

LIQUOR FOES SAY CLUBS AND SALOONS MUST GO; ORGANIZE FOR CRUSADE

Atlanta prohibition workers in Atlanta declared Monday that it would be a matter of only a short time before the city's near-beer saloons would be wiped out and the locker would cease their flagrant violation of the law or suffer the same fate.

Those opposed to liquor selling were encouraged by the routing of the saloons in the Georgia Anti-Liquor League. Resolutions were passed at the meeting. Chief Deane, who has all near-beer saloons and locker proprietors who violate the law.

The Atlanta jury of Fulton County is to take up the matter with a view to indicting violators of the law.

Committee to Wage Fight.

A committee of 25 members was organized to act as a "law enforcement committee" to employ attorneys and make cases against liquor saloons, obtain injunctions and employ legal procedure necessary to bring the illegal liquor traffic to a halt. The committee is composed of more than a thousand persons who are meeting with enthusiasm and it was decided to launch the campaign at once and not rest until the issue is won.

A committee of 25 will make formal appeal immediately to the superior court to close up the saloons and locker clubs. The committee is also planning to hold a mass meeting before the saloons are existing and to bring their business in open violation of the law and that prohibitionists are to be more than superficial attack on the saloons.

"We are confident of victory," said J. H. Harrison, one of the committee members, at Sunday's meeting and he said the committee will have more than a thousand members. He continued, "and we will not rest until the saloons are closed up and the law is enforced. We will not admit the defeat of the law. When a determined band of salooniers get together with a good purpose in view, they can not be stopped by any lawless element that ever existed.

"Every near-beer saloon is going to be wiped out of Atlanta. That is my prediction. They are violating the law as they are being conducted now. There is no question about that. No one attempts seriously to say that they are not. Why, then, should we stand idly by and let them continue in their outlaws?"

Harrison, Alexander, one of the most valiant fighters for the cause of prohibition in the Legislature, when he was a member, was one of the speakers of the afternoon. He declared the liquor law violations in Atlanta are notorious and appalling.

"These violations," he said, "are accompanied by expressions of ridicule and defiance on one hand and are constantly met with deplorable indifference on the part of those who are charged with the enforcement of the prohibition law."

"At the so-called 'legitimate clubs' these violations are in general confined to sales to members or their guests. They are not any the less violations of the law, and this statement is sustained by judicial decisions."

"Every Glass Lawless."

"Private barkeepers violate the law in even more flagrant measure, and openly sell liquor to all customers who comply with the flimsy regulations that are designed solely to furnish excuses for the avoidance of official intervention."

"Every keg of beer that is brewed under corporate charters and every glass that is sold in a saloon is equally lawless, and the shame of it is aggravated by the ridiculous pretext that calls the beer some name unknown to the law."

"The officials now in office apparently are not courageous to the extent that they will carry out the letter of the law and thus do the people's will. When the voters register their will, not only in passing prohibitory laws but in the choosing of public officials, then, and then only, will the sale of liquor cease in Georgia."

"I warn you that no remedy for the evils complained of will be effective that does not begin with an end to the near-beer saloons and the bogus clubs."

GOETHALS READY TO ABANDON CANAL JOB

Great Engineer Refuses To Be Football Kicked Around by Politicians.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.

PANAMA, Nov. 8.—Colonel Goethals has definitely fixed upon March, 1914, as the time of his final departure from the Isthmus of Panama. This leaves less than five months for him to complete the canal, reorganize the working force and establish the operation of the great waterway.

How far his determination has been influenced by the attitude of the administration at Washington has been left to conjecture by Colonel Goethals. He had hoped to stay here a year after its completion. But in the presence of President Taft two years ago he said he expected to finish it only in 1914 and would then sail for home to get his family in better condition before coming back to the government.

Eager to Get Away.

Colonel Goethals' complexion has changed his color and he is now a man of a different color. The importance of his determination to quit so soon is obvious.

By March the canal will be practically completed and he hopes to have demonstrated by that time the canal is open to shipping.

A year ago he began urging legislation for the permanent organization of the canal government and succeeded in getting the Adams law passed. For the last six months he has been urging Washington to issue orders authorizing him to go ahead with the permanent organization of the canal government.

With the canal nearing completion the navy is insisting on an early date for the passage of the canal. But there is no trained force to handle them. In untrained hands their passage would be fraught with great danger.

Refuses To Be Football.

Governor Metcalf's proposition for a three-headed commission to govern the canal zone is further complicated matters and upset all Colonel Goethals' carefully matured plans. The great engineer is maintaining a dogged silence, but the correspondent can say positively that he feels keenly the position into which he has been forced and will refuse to be made a football to the politicians.

Colonel Goethals is unalterably opposed to the three-headed commission idea and it can be said positively he will not serve on such a commission longer than necessary to complete the canal. He will not accept divided responsibility.

The post of chief engineer of the army, which has been suggested as a reward to Colonel Goethals, has no attraction for him. He probably will retire from the army, travel for some time and then open an office in New York City.

What the American people have to take into consideration is that under the present trend of affairs the services of this national genius will have to be lost for the first and most critical year of the completed canal.

Goethals Slated For New York Police Head.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Colonel Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama Canal, will be offered the position as Police Commissioner by Mayor-elect John Purroy Mitchel, according to a belief in political circles.

Mr. Mitchel admitted that he was going to Panama on his vacation trip, during which he will settle upon the merits of the appointments for the $10,000 list of jobs.

Student Overcome By Leaking Gas as He Prepares Bath

J. H. Herrington, a student of the Georgia School of Technology, was overcome Monday by a bad gas leak from a bath by asphyxiation Sunday afternoon.

R. H. McNulty, another student, saved Herrington by finding him as he lay unconscious in a bathroom of the Kappa Alpha fraternity house at No. 460 Spring street.

Herrington had turned on the instantaneous gas heater preparatory to taking a bath and gas, escaping through a large hole in the rubber connecting pipe, overcame him as he bathed, so that he fell unconscious in the tub.

"CASCARETS" FINE FOR THE BOWELS

No Headache, Bad Taste, Sour Stomach or Coated Tongue by Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartics or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and feces; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the congested waste matter and poison in the blood.

No more how sick, headachy, bitter and constipated you feel, a Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children; their little bodies need a gentle cleansing, too.—Advt.

STUDENTS FIGHT RESIDENCE FIRE NEAR SCHOOL

Georgia Military Academy Cadets
Leave Classrooms to Battle
Flames in Home.

More than 100 students of the Georgia Military Academy in College Park left their classrooms Tuesday morning to fight a fire that demolished the residence of J. M. Milner and partially burned the handsome home of E. D. Barrett, adjoining it on Cambridge street. An aggregate loss of $25,000 was estimated.

Due to the work of the boys, in conjunction with the fire departments of College Park and East Point, most of the movable furniture of the Milner home was saved.

Mrs. Milner and her 2-month-old son were in the Milner home at the time the fire broke out and were forced to flee from the flames.

The blaze is said to have originated from a defective flue on the second floor. It was discovered by students, and before fire apparatus arrived, the interior of the two-story frame structure was a roaring furnace.

Alarms were sent in to both the College Park fire department and East Point. Hundreds of persons gathered before the big fire.

Volunteers called.

Due to the terrific gale which swept the blaze, carrying large pieces of burning timber over the neighborhood, there was great apprehension that the fire would spread. A general alarm was sent out for volunteers.

When the call reached the military academy a hasty order was sent throughout the buildings disbanding the classes and ordering the boys to the aid of the firemen. The two blocks which separated the school from the scene of the fire was made in double-quick time by the students, and with renewed force the fight upon the fire was injected.

With activity the young men scrambled through windows and doors of the burning building, in the face of flames, and snatched back with articles of furniture, clothing and valuables.

Bucket Brigade Formed.

It was discovered that the Barrett residence had caught from flying embers and the fight was turned in that direction. Many of the students formed a bucket brigade and suggested the streams of water pouring from the fire departments' hoses.

When the fire was finally extinguished, a roasting dinner was given to the cadets by the through as they marched back to their classrooms.

Four Homes Burned,
Two Others Damaged.

Members of four families had narrow escapes from death; four houses were destroyed and two others badly damaged, in fires in three different sections of the city Tuesday morning at 2:30 o'clock. The home of W. H. Davidson, No. 17 Marion avenue, was burned to the ground, a house occupied by I. T. Bass, next door at No. 15 Marion street, was badly damaged, and a hole was burned in the roof of home of J. B. Watkins, No. 77 Boulevard terrace.

Three negro houses at No. 18, 19 and 21 Ira street, occupied by Daniel Arnold, and No. 410 Ira street, were destroyed.

Four of the families had to flee from their homes in their night clothing with blankets strapped around them. I. T. Bass and his family left their home before it caught from the flames that devoured the Davidson home, and awakened Mr. Davidson.

Georgia Editor Heads New Boat Company

Application was made to the Secretary of State today for a charter for the Augusta Barge Line, to operate a steamship service for freight and passengers between Augusta and Savannah. The company is to be capitalized at $100,000, and is headed by Thomas W. Loyless, editor of The Augusta Chronicle.

and his family, and Miss Anna Olson, of New York, a visitor at the Davidson home, just in time to save their lives.

Woman Gives Alarm.

The Watkins home on Boulevard terrace caught fire shortly before 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Watkins was awakened suddenly by the crackle and roar of the flames, and thought the sound came from a burglar trying to gain entrance into the house. She arose from her bed, secured a revolver and then awakened her husband.

Mr. Watkins listened and he, too, thought a burglar was attempting entrance. He took the revolver and started to investigate. As he opened the bedroom door he was met by a cloud of smoke so thick that he was unable to stand before it.

Flames followed the smoke into the room, and Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were forced to flee into the street, wrapped only in blankets they had snatched from the bed. The flames were extinguished before great damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Miss Olson escaped from their home at No. 17 Marion avenue only a few seconds before the roof crashed in on the rooms they had been occupying. I. T. Bass, living next door at No. 15 Marion street, was awakened by the sound of the flames, and he and Mrs. Bass ran into the street. They tried to awaken the Davidson family by knocking on their door and screaming, but were unsuccessful.

Society Folk are keenly interested in approaching show for benefit of Incurables
Home.

Atlanta society is displaying marked interest in the dog show, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, and a big list of entries has already been made. Some very rare and handsome dogs have been entered. The entries close Wednesday.

The Home for Incurables, one of Atlanta's worthiest charities, is the beneficiary of the show, which begins Friday, continuing through Saturday, at No. 125 Peachtree street.

One of the handsomest dogs entered is "Reliance of the Crack," a magnificent white English terrier, whose owner, Mrs. Richard C. Congdon, already possesses nearly 50 ribbons won by him in former shows.

"Crack," as he is called, won the prize for being the second best dog in a Madison Square Garden show, and is a true aristocrat, having been bred in the famous Craig kennels near Ottawa, Canada. Mrs. W. M. Stephenson has a beautiful entry, Mrs. Mitchell King has entered her magnificent Boston terrier, worth almost his weight in gold, and Mrs. Joseph D. Rhoads will show several very fine English bulldogs.

Mrs. Bates Black and Miss Jane Crandall have entered their pet Cocker spaniels and Boston terriers will be shown by Miss Harriet Calhoun, Miss Carolyn King, Mrs. John Kiser and Stuart Witham. Mrs. James L. Dickey, Jr., whose French poodle is often seen seated beside her in her electric, will also compete for one of the many handsome prizes offered.

Among the handsome Scotch collies entered are those owned by Mrs. J. R. A. Hobson and Mrs. Preston Arkwright. Frank Inman has entered his fine setters, and Mr. Hugh Hancock will display her beautiful French poodles.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Luster to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 3-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin, have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all hair and scalp itching and falling hair stop.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—AGCL

SLAYER SPENCER WITHOUT SOUL, IS DEFENSE

Sense of Morality Dwarfed, Like Prehistoric Man, Says Attorney.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The defense of Spencer, charged with the murder of a woman, is being conducted by a team of lawyers who are making a strong case for his sanity. The defense team, led by a prominent attorney, is arguing that Spencer, while a man of low intelligence, was not insane at the time of the crime. They claim that he was a "primitive" man, lacking the moral sense of a civilized society. Mann, of Illinois, is chairman, made the selection and gave the order to a jewelry firm in New York.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—With ancient pomp and ceremony Sir T. Van Bittart Bowater was today installed as Lord Mayor of London. After the ceremonies in the Guild Hall the new Lord Mayor was driven in state, accompanied by the Sheriff, Aldermen and Councillors of London to the law courts, where the oath was administered by Sir Rufus Isaacs, the new Lord Chief Justice.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Declaring he would not yield his convictions on the currency bill to please even the President of the United States, Senator Hitchcock, in a speech in the Senate to-day, denounced executive interference with the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. He criticized the efforts to obtain a caucus upon the bill.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 10.—Governor Emmett O'Neal, of Alabama, to-day accepted an invitation to attend the celebration marking the completion of the $9,000,000 lock and dam at Hales Bar, Tenn., November 15. Governor O'Neal, of Tennessee, will be another attendant. Governor Glynn, of New York, has been invited.

TRINIDAD, COLO., Nov. 10.—For the second time since the occupation of the Southern Colorado coal fields by the national guard troops were fired upon to-day by strikers.

SARNIA, ONT., Nov. 10.—Four men were killed when a Grand Trunk passenger train, No. 91, plunged into locomotive No. 105, near this city, this afternoon. The engineer of the passenger train did not see the standing engine because of the blinding snowstorm.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Federal "service" law, which provides that claimants of interstate trains shall not be compelled to work more than sixteen consecutive hours, was held to be constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States to-day.

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 10.—A committee of influential residents of the State of Yucatan arrived here to-day on their way to Mexico City to confer with General Huerta and to urge him to continue as national Executive in spite of protests from the United States.

PORT HURON, MICH., Nov. 10. No trace has been found of the three children lost in last night's storm. The three are Mabelle

Trumbull, aged 12, another girl whose name is not known, and Charles Inch, 12. They came to this city from Marysville to attend a motion picture show and when the storm broke made a vain attempt to return home. No cars were operating and the children started to a relative's home on foot and apparently lost their way. It is supposed they are dead under snowdrifts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The board of arbitration in the wage dispute between the Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen will be filed this evening in the Federal Court. It is said the arbitrators will recommend an increase of 7 1/2 per cent in wages, which will amount to $7,000,000 annually. The original demands called for an annual increase of $18,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Chief Justice White, in behalf of the United States Supreme Court, today ordered West Virginia to take steps to settle by June, 1914, the dispute with Virginia, in which it is alleged West Virginia owes Virginia about $14,000,000 interest on an old bond issue. A final hearing will be held in April.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 10. United States Senator Cummins, of Iowa, and 300 other passengers are snowbound in their train three miles from here. A relief train sent out was also blocked after it had gone a mile.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day declined to review a suit brought by the Western Union Telegraph Company and the American Bell Telephone Company in which the Western Union Company claimed $5,000,000 under an agreement alleged to have been made between the two companies. Seven million dollars already had been paid to the Western Union under the agreement.

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 10.—The United States gunboat Wheeling left here unexpectedly to-day for Tampico. No reason was given.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day declared valid the law of Vermont which imposes annually a tax of fourteen-twentieths of 1 per cent upon national bank depositors of the State who are also residents of the State. The Clement National Bank of Vermont had contended the law violated Federal statutes.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 10.—General Rabin, a political adherent of General Huerta, dissolved the State Legislature of Tamaulipas to-day. A number of the members of the lower chamber openly declared their intention of joining the rebels. None of them was arrested, the message said.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Nov. 10. The steam yacht "Walvala," which was wrecked on St. Joseph Island, near Port Aransas, last week, was floated to-day. She is considerably damaged. All members of the crew are safe.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—W. C. Nixon, one of the receivers for the Frisco Railroad, was elected president of that system at the annual meeting of directors here to-day. Benjamin F. Youkum, of New York, was re-elected to the position of chairman of the board of directors. The other directors elected were: Thomas H. West, W. K. Nixby, Albert T. Perkins, S. W. Fordyce, W. C. Nixon, W. B. Biddle, James Campbell, F. W. W. Loe, all of St. Louis; H. H. Pierce, member of the legal firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, New York; John T. Harris, of Harris, Winthrop & Co., bankers, New York; B. F. Youkum, of New York; Benjamin P. Cheney, of Boston; Alexander Douglas, auditor of the Frisco, was also named a director.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Capt. Chiwell, of the revenue cutter Onondaga, reported to the Treasury Department to-day by wireless that he had captured the bark Manga Reva, bound from Philadelphia to San Francisco off Delaware Bay this morning. The crew of the bark mutinied on October 25 when 600 miles east of Bermuda, putting the master and first mate in irons and imprisoning the second mate. Captain Chiwell placed all the members of the crew under arrest and put a guard aboard the bark. He was instructed to take her to the nearest port and report to the Collector of Customs for further orders.

Tells How Husband Shot Man With Her

WYACROSS, Nov. 10.—That William Hunter was escorted for home Friday night when he was shot by Melvin Williams, housewife, who pointed her gun at him, was the statement made today by the woman in the case. She said her husband was angered because she refused to return to him and a week ago told her he would kill her if she did not come back to him. Long after a neighbor's knock.

AUTOS ATTRACT RECORD CROWD TO ARMORY

More Cars on Display Than Leaders Expected—Sousa's Band to Play.

Atlanta, Nov. 10.—When reported the great designs in automobile construction, the first sight were on hand Monday at the opening of Atlanta's largest Southern Automobile Show in the Auditorium.

Persons who had been impressed by the magnificent showing of automobiles the opening night were surprised Monday to find that the already large exhibit had been increased by the arrival of a dozen more cars that had been delayed in transit from the factories.

"It is the biggest show this part of the South has had," said Joseph W. Hansen, president of the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory Association, under whose auspices the exhibition is being held. "There are more cars here than ever before. In fact, it has been a matter of some difficulty for us to find space for all the manufacturers and dealers who wished to exhibit."

Sousa to Be in Parade. "A person who is contemplating the purchase of a car can do no better than come here. He will find the latest things in automobile construction and design. Even if one has no idea of buying a car this year, he will find it a joy to look over the magnificent cars that are on display and listen to the music of Sousa's Band."

Sousa and his musicians will arrive Tuesday morning and will take part in the big parade which will form at 10:30 o'clock. Sousa will award the prizes for the best decorated cars.

A contingent of "Tech" students will sweep down upon the automobile show Tuesday evening. Arrangements for their visit are being made by the engineering professors. They will make a particular study of the many mechanical innovations of which 1914 models boast.

Oil-Burning Car on Display. One of the cars which will receive careful inspection is the Henderson road oil burning automobile. The Henderson is said to be the first car on which a coal oil carburetor has been successfully used. This device, which is the invention of Ray Henderson, the daring auto racer, opens up wonderful possibilities in the way of economical operation.

Less than $30 worth of kerosene took a five-passenger Henderson from Indianapolis to Los Angeles, where it was driven by the Henderson makers. This made the fare of the five passengers about 26 each, probably one of the cheapest trips ever made in a car.

Another mechanical innovation is that of the Cadillac two-speed direct drive axle. In place of the single level pinion and single bevel driving gear there are two level pinions and two bevel driving gears. This affords two different gear ratios, each driving from the engine to the axle without intermediate gearing.

Tech Men to Study Features. The "silent motor" of the Lyons-Knight, the compact motor and simple construction of the "Imp" and a host of other mechanical features will draw the eyes of the students from Tech.

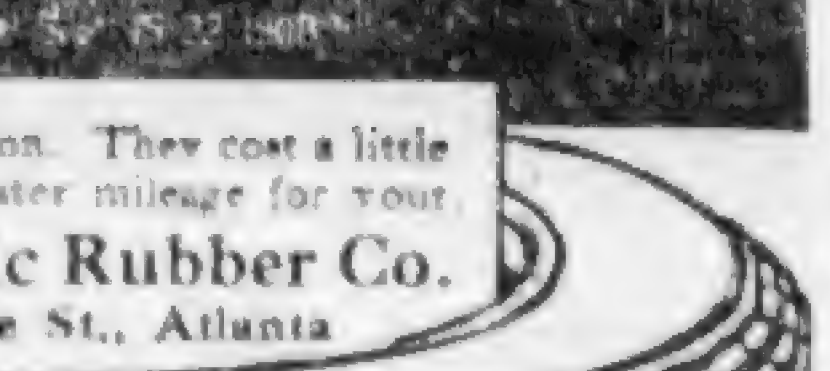

The Royal Cabaret, which the auto men jokingly insist on calling the cabaret, is one of the favorites of the women in the show. It is of Premier make and was designed especially for a Boston purchaser. It is being shown by J. E. Levy, manager for the Southern district.

The car is of striking appearance, being painted in royal red or white color. Its designer was Russ Irvin, of Indianapolis, who obtained many of his ideas from a trip to Europe, where he saw the cars to which royalty rode to the races and other places. The car has every equipment known to modern automobile construction, even to a wire communication back of the seat where there also is room for the storage of suit cases and grips.

Demand Grows Heavier. C. G. Bond and J. A. Curry, both of the Hup factory in Detroit, Mich., are representing the Hupmobile interests at the show. Mr. Garrity was delayed over night in Nashville by a wreck and arrived in Atlanta Monday morning.

"I had to come by a circuitous route," said Mr. Curry, "but I am glad to be here."

Woman Who Served As Messenger for Confederacy Dead

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Annie Perdus Sebring, wife of General W. H. Sebring, is dead here of paralysis. The funeral will be held in Memphis. The palbearers will be P. A. Tipton, W. S. Jordan, W. T. Person, Matt Baker, Alexander Ray and P. G. Johnson.

Mrs. Sebring was descended from the Perduces of Maryland and was born in Baltimore, Md. She served the Confederacy as a messenger in the vicinity of Memphis during the War Between the States, and was one of the organizers of the Daughters of the Confederacy. A local chapter of that order was named for her, and she was its first president. She was a painter and writer of marked ability.

Besides her husband, two sons and one daughter survive Mrs. Sebring. "My old dad who has charge of the route," said Mr. Garrity, "but I got here just as soon as though there had been no wreck."

Both men are third-degree boosters for the Hup than which they soundly assert is no better car. "Why five years ago we were turning out a few little cars in a shanty in Detroit," said Mr. Poole. "This coming year we will make more than 35,000 and that will not anywhere near meet the demand. To-day we are behind in our orders on 58 coupes, 800 four-passenger cars, 200 roadsters and 100 six-passenger cars."

Two more Buicks were added to the exhibit Monday morning. One of them is a "six" the largest ever built by the Buick factory in Flint, Mich., and the other is a "four" the smallest of the Buick factory in Flint, Mich.

The Buick school of instruction for salesmen and mechanics began Monday in the Buick headquarters on Peachtree street. Among those who were to give addresses were T. B. Snelley, A. M. Bentley and L. E. Palm, all experts in their particular lines.

Among Monday's out-of-town arrivals were F. A. Witt, of Detroit, representing the Metz car; H. L. Hubbard, of Cleveland, representing the Chandler; W. T. Madden, of Concord, Ga., and M. R. Stevens, of Augusta.

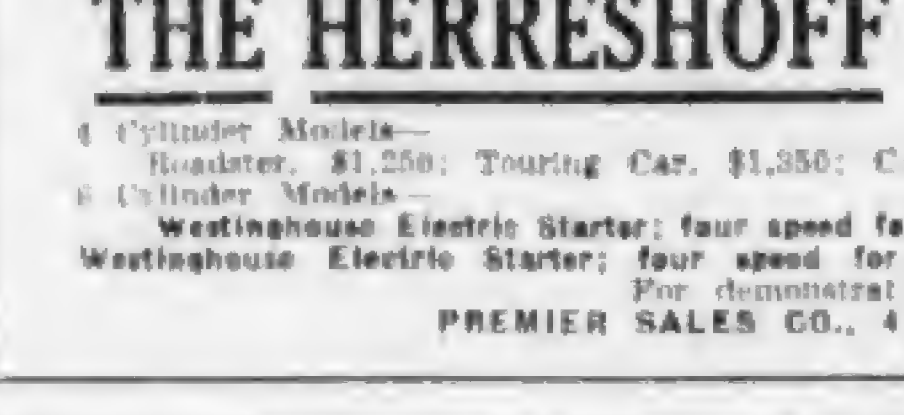

Three handsomely decorated automobiles, packed with enthusiastic members of the Atlanta Aural Suffrage Association, will have prominent positions in the big floral automobile parade Tuesday. The officers of the association will ride in the parade and the banners and pennants of the organizations will be seen throughout the long line of cars.

Miss Mamie Mathews, recent college graduate and one of the most enthusiastic members of the association, will drive her own car and will try for a prize. If she wins it she will give it to the association fund. Dr. Frank Peck and Dr. M. C. Hardin, Atlanta, will be in the parade.

Anticipating the parade, the city will be decorated with natural flowers. The parade Tuesday will rival the famous San Jacinto celebration of San Antonio, which is said to be the greatest floral exhibition in the world. It will be the biggest feature of the Auto Show this year.

Until the arrival of the famous Sousa band, Charles A. Sheldon, the noted Atlanta organizer, who has pleased thousands of people with his concerts, will render select programs at both the afternoon and evening shows.

Pork Packer Predicts Lower Prices of Food

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A general decrease in wages and the price of foodstuffs is predicted by Fredrick Layton, of Milwaukee, the oldest pork packer in the United States, present sale of wages. "It is impossible to maintain the price of foodstuffs when the wages are so low," said Layton. "It will be accompanied by a decrease in foodstuffs and hard times."

Foot of Snow in Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, PA., Nov. 10.—Nearly twelve inches of snow on a level and drifts three feet high in many places the blizzard which came yesterday is still raising to-day. Every November weather record, except that of high wind, has been broken. The temperature sank to 23 degrees.

One Dealer Made $20,000 This Year

And he sells nothing but Carters. He sells them because they are different and there are many talking points that a prospective customer knows is true. Most cars are very much alike. They are good or bad in the same ratio. Carters have a Gearless Transmission—that's why they are so simple.

Most Cartercar Dealers let a prospect drive after they have been out half an hour in the machine. It is so simple that almost anyone can drive a Cartercar with safety in fifteen minutes' time.

Actually, it is fun to sell Cartercars. Prospects who have been "hounded" almost to death like to get out with a Cartercar dealer—and sell the car to themselves.

Be sure and see this simple car at the show. This is its eleventh year of continuous success.

Is the logical investment of the year

The Mitchell Little Six is the only six-cylinder car on the market that sells for less than $2,000 and is delivered to you bearing all the modern conveniences and refinements. It is the only six-cylinder car on the market under $2,000 that has an electric self-starter which is operated by a separate generator that generates its own power.

It is the only six-cylinder car offered in America to-day under $2,000 which has all the class, the beauty, the smartness, the quality and comfort of the high-priced cars. The tendency of the time is toward the six. This is a six, 55 horsepower, 110 miles an hour, 100 miles a gallon, 100 miles a day. This is the Logical Compromise. It has fifty horsepower and 100 miles an hour. It is built on a chassis that is graceful to a degree. It has the sweetest of motors with the popular long stroke. And as it stands to-day it will look good to its owner for years to come no matter how styles may change.

It is fully equipped and the equipment is included in the price of $1,895. There is nothing left for you to buy.

Seeking a Husband.

By CONSTANCE CLARKE.

"DICK, this looks like such a funny place," I said, as we threaded our way through the maze of tables. The air was thick with tobacco smoke, and there was quite an air of bonhomie about everything.

"Peggy," said Dick, laughing, when they were seated at one of the little round tables. "The most refreshing part of knowing you is to be able to feel that you are absolutely truthful about everything you say. And then you have a way of opening your eyes."

"Oh, do you think I ought to appear more worldly?" I queried.

"I should say not. I'll take care of that part of it. Here waiter," and Dick gave the order, while I looked around. I was really very curious about the place. It isn't really a bit of fun to eat at a stuffy, old-fashioned place, where things are perfectly proper, and you are almost positive that your next-door neighbor is all that is to be desired in the way of propriety.

"Dick, how do they have cabaret here?" Dick was still busy with the waiter, and almost immediately out came a man and girl who began to sing and dance. The song was all about some new dance called the "Swish Craw," and at the end of the song they began to dance down among the tables. Of course I was absorbed in the dance. I'd like to know something new in the way of a dance at the club this year, but as they passed our table the man winked at me. Of course Dick saw this, but he said for once he was the benefit of the doubt, and said:

"Peggy, don't forget what I told you about these eyes."

"Jealousy?" I said, wickedly, and yes, oh, Dick, they're coming back. Think the girl is awfully pretty."

"This time the girl was looking at me, and suddenly I saw Dick get red, and then a flash of recognition passed between them."

DICK EMBARRASSED.

"Oh, you know her; do introduce me to your friend."

"But Dick answered quickly, 'Don't be foolish, Peggy, a man has to know many people that it would be impossible for him to introduce to a girl like you.'"

"Yes, she was rather a wreck," I agreed. "Such a lot of paint, and no hair to speak of, and that awful dress."

"It was just because I was beginning to tire of Dick that I spoke in that offhand way. Two weeks ago I cared too much about him to attempt such a thing. Isn't life funny?"

Dick looked cross, but I was laughing, and just then our order came, and the waiter was putting a thin-stemmed glass in front of me. I looked over at Dick, and he smiled encouragingly, but I shook my head.

"Why not, Peggy?" he insisted, "aren't you going to be a good fellow?"

"Well, that's the mildest thing in the world; couldn't you possibly hurt you?"

"I know, Dick, but I'd rather not, really. What made you order it up without consulting me?"

"Well, I thought, of course, that you were game for a good time. Aren't you ever going to be anything but a little prudish?"

"I don't mind the two things naturally follow," I said decidedly, and, anyway, you know very well that I couldn't have allowed you to order me a cocktail; it's simply another example of your inordinate conceit. If I have allowed you to decide for me in the past things are going to be different in the future."

I looked at him in amazement, and, indeed, I was surprised that I had dared to answer myself. But I demurely dissected my terrapin and waited for him to say something. It wasn't very long in coming, for before I knew what was happening the waiter had filled my glass from a tall bottle that he took out of a pall filled with ice.

Dick leaned forward authoritatively. "Peggy, I want you to drink some of this. Don't make me think you've never been out anywhere before."

The Gold Witch

The Adventures of a Golden-Haired Heiress—A Charming Illustrated Series by a New Artist.

From the Quiet of the Convent to the First Perplexities of Life

BY STELLA FLORES

WHEN she leaves the convent school the sisters warn the little "Gold Witch," as she is called, because of her gold hair and great fortune, that she would find the world cold and indifferent.

Why, the varlet baby knows better than to refuse champagne."

SHE WAS WISE.

Then I laughed. So he actually thought I didn't know what I was refusing. Oh, Dick, and I thought at one time—well, that was long ago.

Anyway, a little later as I slipped my coffee reflector, after some rather bungled attempt at conversation on Dick's part, I decided that I would be perfectly content to pass my future without Dick as a possible source of happiness. Just think, that awful girl with the pain and the impossible gown might be setting up a future husband for breach of promise some day, and all my life I'd be living with a man who wouldn't allow me to call my soul my own. I might have chosen a little while ago, isn't life funny?

AN UNPLEASANT SIGHT.

"Can anything be more unpleasant to witness than the absolutely vacant young girl of to-day, who invades the domain of the younger set, and who is actually offered to us as a type of American girl? She may be seen in any of the tea rooms in company with some of her kind, or with the hectic youth who flourishes in polite society as the American man, and who is most proficient in spending his father's hard-earned money."

"Notice the aforesaid young woman, and you will very quickly decide that she is bored with life. She is one of a type, and is too lazy to realize that through a little will power she might become an individual. Bored, of course she is bored. And why should she be otherwise than bored? She is perfectly conscious of the fact that she is boring other people, too. Her friends never seek her opinion—she has none in give; she is not interested in any of them. And when she wants some one who is really worth while, her brain has become so stunted that she has no power to desert herself at all, and is judged as light and frivolous with no thought on anything but dress and amusement."

"Get out of this rut, girls, and go out into life with the idea that whatever you give of yourself that same will come back to you. Forget the fact that you are one of a type. Forget yourself, and give your thoughts to other things and other people. Be an individual."

THE OTHER DEFECT.

"And now for the physical defect. Young girls of to-day should be uniformly slim, not thin in one place and out of proportion in another. And still, whenever the girl of to-day gains, she gains in the hips. And immediately she begins walking to reduce. But how does she reduce? She walks rigidly, like a wax doll."

She strolls on Fifth avenue and stops to look in every shop window, and imagines that she is becoming thin by the minute. But you ever stop to wonder why men never have stout hips? It is because they know how to walk. They exercise the muscles that should be exercised, they walk freely, they feel the hip bone turn in the socket at every step. They don't walk stiffly, and yet they don't swagger. They simply walk right. What an admission, girls, to have to praise what a man does naturally! But if you could all realize what wonders can be accomplished with the right kind of walking you would begin to-day, this very instant, to walk as nature intended you should.

With the elimination of these two very common defects the American girl would cease to be a type. She would be individually beautiful at such and every stage of life, and she would be perfectly capable of making every attraction count. For most wonderful of all she would have given into her keeping that precious possession that every woman longs for, the power to grow old gracefully."

MAUL BROS. St. Louis, Mo.

Beauty

The Two Main Defects of the American Girl and Their Remedy, Described by Pretty Jane Grey.

By MAUDE MILLER.

THE girl of to-day, the American girl, is maintaining two very unpleasant characteristics, says Miss Jane Grey, of the "Nearby Married" company. "One is a purely physical defect, the other is mental; but while either of these two predominates, the girl of to-day can never be wholly charming."

THE OTHER DEFECT.

"And now for the physical defect. Young girls of to-day should be uniformly slim, not thin in one place and out of proportion in another. And still, whenever the girl of to-day gains, she gains in the hips. And immediately she begins walking to reduce. But how does she reduce? She walks rigidly, like a wax doll."

She strolls on Fifth avenue and stops to look in every shop window, and imagines that she is becoming thin by the minute. But you ever stop to wonder why men never have stout hips? It is because they know how to walk. They exercise the muscles that should be exercised, they walk freely, they feel the hip bone turn in the socket at every step. They don't walk stiffly, and yet they don't swagger. They simply walk right. What an admission, girls, to have to praise what a man does naturally! But if you could all realize what wonders can be accomplished with the right kind of walking you would begin to-day, this very instant, to walk as nature intended you should.

With the elimination of these two very common defects the American girl would cease to be a type. She would be individually beautiful at such and every stage of life, and she would be perfectly capable of making every attraction count. For most wonderful of all she would have given into her keeping that precious possession that every woman longs for, the power to grow old gracefully."

BUT in her first experience, when changing, late at night, to a crowded sleeper, she finds it is sometimes disconcertingly interesting, and—well, not at all cold. A tall young man with nice eyes gave up his berth to her.

Up-to-the-Minute Jokes

The occupants of the railway carriage were listening with joyful interest to the tales of the young man in the corner. He had been all over the world several times, apparently, and his adventures had been marvelous.

"Coolness and courage are the things," he was saying. "Take this case. We were in Central Africa, traveling among cannibal tribes. One evening, above a rock in front of me, I saw the heads of three natives who were watching me. What was I to do? My gun was at the camp. To turn back meant having spears through me. In a moment I decided. Close by were some stones. Pretending I didn't see the niggers, I bent down as if to examine the stones, then, quick as lightning, I picked up three of them and flung them with all my force at their heads. Every one found its mark, and the three natives dropped like sheep. I always take a rock with me, and it served me well then."

Then the red-faced man opposite, who had been listening carefully, chimed in:

"And what did you have gun for a cigar or a packet of cigarettes?"

Adoring Grandmother—Isn't he a lovely baby?

Calm Visitor—Yes, he's a nice little baby.

Adoring Grandmother (enthusiastic)—And so intelligent! He just lies there all day and breathes, and breathes, and breathes.

The workman was engaged in excavating operations, i. e., he was digging.

The wayfarer of the inquisitive turn of mind stopped for a moment to look on.

"My man," said the wayfarer, at length, "what are you digging for?"

The workman looked up.

"Money," he replied.

"Money?" ejaculated the amazed wayfarer. "And when do you expect to strike it?"

"Saturday," replied the workman, and resumed operations.

"Do you call this a band of picked musicians?"

"Certainly."

"Well, you picked them before they were ripe."

Is there a man in your family—a brother, a father, or even a brother-in-law?

Well, then, begin to talk about it to this man you think is no deeper in love with you. Tell him you want him to meet your brother. Tell him your brother loves you and is proud of you and wants to know every one that you know. Make an engagement to introduce the two men, and wait your romantic sweetheart sneak up on it, like the coward and the sneak that he is.

Why, he'll turn white at the very mention of your brother's name, and it won't be two weeks till you see him making love to some girl who has no man in the family to protect her.

Try it, and see. Blue Eyes—try it and see.

Some day you'll shudder to remember how cruel and selfish and wicked and foolish you came so near to being.

The Girl in Love with a Married Man.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have come to you for some of your good advice, which I think will help me a great deal. I am a young girl who will be seventeen in a few months, and I am meeting a man who is eighteen years my senior. He is a married man and has two children; but he says he is going to get a separation from his wife within a few months. I love him dearly, and know that my love is reciprocated, and it would break my heart to give him up. He has advised me to continue my acquaintance with him? BLUE EYES.

WHAT a foolish letter, Blue Eyes! what a foolish, touching, ridiculous, pathetic letter! To be sure.

In love with a married man, and thinking that you're going to be happy?

It will break your heart to give him up, you say. Well, I doubt it. Perhaps it will; but I doubt it.

And even if your heart is broken, it's a kind of break that is very easily mended. But, oh, the broken heart that comes if you do not give him up—that can never, never in all the world be cured again.

You're seventeen and the man is thirty-five; he has two children and a wife, and he says he's going to get a separation—just for you.

What about the wife? What about the children? How can you care anything for a man who will throw aside a woman who has borne him children, just as if she was some poor, worn-out old shoe—just because he happens to take a fancy to a pretty, new face?

Do you suppose you are the first one this man has told that story to?

Do you think for one minute that you will be the last one?

What is there about you so wonderful that one look into your eyes could change a decent man into a cowardly sneak all of a sudden?

For that is what this man you're so dead in love with is—a coward and a sneak.

You don't believe it—of course not—poor little foolish thing—you don't want to believe it.

But some day you will—some day you'll come to it, and then—

Why not learn the lesson right now before it ruins your life? I'll tell you how.

Is there a man in your family—a brother, a father, or even a brother-in-law?

Well, then, begin to talk about it to this man you think is no deeper in love with you. Tell him you want him to meet your brother. Tell him your brother loves you and is proud of you and wants to know every one that you know. Make an engagement to introduce the two men, and wait your romantic sweetheart sneak up on it, like the coward and the sneak that he is.

Why, he'll turn white at the very mention of your brother's name, and it won't be two weeks till you see him making love to some girl who has no man in the family to protect her.

Try it, and see. Blue Eyes—try it and see.

Some day you'll shudder to remember how cruel and selfish and wicked and foolish you came so near to being.

Opening of Tea Room Delights Society

Great interest was manifested Monday afternoon at the opening of the new tea room at the Georgian Terrace. Many guests were present and the delightful atmosphere of the occasion added to the pleasure of the guests.

The attractive palm room at the terrace will be held every afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock much after the fashion instituted there several years ago when all Atlanta seemed to gather in the lounge for a sociable cup of tea. Frequently after a ball game or a journey downtown one would stop before returning home to chat for a half hour, knowing always some one of their friends would be there for the same purpose. Music is one of the special features of the tea hour and the popular prices insure its success.

Mrs. Boynton Hostess.
Mrs. Charles Boynton gave a luncheon at her home on Peachtree street for Mrs. Samuel Brown, Mrs. J. R. Mobley, Mrs. W. S. Coleman, Mrs. E. L. Connolly, Mrs. William McCarthy and Mrs. Bedell. An election of officers will be held at the convention.

MRS. SLATON TO BAKE GEORGIA DAY BISCUITS

Crowning the achievements of the State Chamber of Commerce in its preparations for the great Georgia Products celebration, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton, wife of the Governor, on Monday consented to make the bountiful biscuits to be served at the great dinner at the Auditorium November 18.

Be it known that Mrs. Slaton's prowess in the kitchen is as great as that in the drawing room, which has made her the social leader of the State. That her knowledge of things culinary will be added to make the mammoth tribute to Georgia-grown products a success is a final feature of the greatest exhibition of State patriotism ever seen.

Jessie Wilson's Wedding Brings Sister a Suitor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Society is much interested in a report that another romance may spring out of the wedding of Miss Jessie Wilson to Francis B. Sayre. Dr. Gilbert Horax, one of the ushers, has been a frequent visitor at the week-end house parties at the White House, and it is said, has paid marked attention to Miss Margaret Wilson, eldest daughter of the President, ever since they met in New York, where Miss Wilson was studying music.

Wilson Trousseau Costs Under $5,000
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The trousseau of Miss Jessie Wilson, including the gown in which she will be married to Francis B. Sayre on November 25, will cost less than $5,000, it was learned here to-day.

There is about this display of Coats that something that one recognizes immediately as meaning satisfaction—"Now I shall find the coat I want."

It has been so planned.

Varieties are very great, greater than in many a season, because Coats are "good" as the trade says when it refers to anything favored by the fashion authorities.

And now the weather is urging!

We have put ourselves in the way of the big Coat business. No doubt of that once you see what we have gathered.

Below are some that you will turn to with that sense of satisfaction we spoke of above.

At $12.50 Coats of black and brown boucle, kimono sleeves, cutaway effect, three-quarter length, velvet trimmed collars and cuffs. Three large velvet buttons placed at intervals down the sleeves instead of on the cuffs.

At $15.00 Very smart coats of two-toned, brown and black boucle and plain boucle in blue and black, three-quarter length, cutaway, collars button close around the neck.

At $19.50 and $20.00 two-toned and striped boucles, browns and black, blue and black, black and white, flat collars of some are of imitation civet cat. Elegant Persian cloth coats and zibeline coats of wonderfully fine texture and rich linings—three-quarter length.

At $21.75 Exceptionally smart coats of wool plush. These are much favored novelties, in Copenhagen blue, old rose and black, trim lines, three-quarter length, kimono sleeves. You will like them.

At $25.00 Many styles, serviceable broadcloths and kerseys, Persian cloths—fine imported fabrics—matelasses, deep cuffs and flat collars are often of plush that has every appearance of fur, rich King's blue and old gold linings are prominent.

At $29.75 $33.50 and $37.50 are Persian cloth, zibeline and cloth coats that are copies of Paris styles. Their lines are superb, graceful kimono sleeves, collars and cuffs often of fur. Elegant affairs!

And a Just-Arrived Paris Success The New Corduroy Sports Coat

The races at Deauville brought it into prominence. Not hard to understand its success. The corduroy is a wide welt, heavy quality. The coat is longer than the sports coats we have known—Paris must change things. But its easy grace is its charm. A loose affair, with overhanging shoulders and set-in sleeves, the collar extends in very long revers below a belt placed a bit lower than usual. The only buttons on it are the two self-cover buttons on the belt! Paris through and through. In sand color and a French blue. The price is $29.75.

90-H. P. BOOSTER WHO IS BEHIND AUTO SHOW

R. H. Reid, chairman of the Automobile Show Committee, and the man who has made the big exhibition a success, according to his friends.

Majority candidates in the next election meant more than good times.

At the Wincoff, Walter P. Anderson and Ernest Allen were present. The evening speech by Mayor Wood was announced, but it would be an indication of the going of the show.

Anderson, a candidate for Mayor, said that under certain conditions he would run for Mayor, but could not announce this as a surety until next summer, when he returns from Europe. The entertainment was a great success and brought out some of the leading citizens of Atlanta. The dinner could not have been improved upon. Interesting talks were made by Colonel Robert Lowry, Colonel Frederick J. Paxon and Charles L. Light.

RULES ON FIRING FURNACE GIVEN BY POOLE

Smoke Inspector Issues Instructions to Firemen—Will Punish Violators.

As a further effort to reduce the smoke nuisance in Atlanta, City Smoke Inspector Poole announced Tuesday that he would issue a set of instructions to firemen, with the warning that if they did not follow them he would make cases against them in the Recorder's Court.

"Owners of smoke-producing furnaces complain that they can't get firemen to handle their furnaces intelligently," he said. "Under authority from the Smoke Commission, I am having printed on cards in big type simple instructions as to how to fire a furnace without making smoke. If the firemen don't follow them we will make cases against them, as well as the owners of the furnaces."

Rules Are Simple.

The instructions are:
1. Keep the fuel bed the same thickness all over the grate, as nearly as you can, except when putting in fresh coal.
2. Before putting in fresh coal push back the live coals at the front to make room for the fresh coal. Do not leave more than two inches of live coals at the front of the grate.
3. Throw in not more than four (according to the size of the furnace) shovels full of coal at each firing. Spread the coal evenly over the layer of live coals at the front of the grate.
How to Use Dampers.
4. If you have air control, open it wide before firing and keep it open until the doors are closed. If the dampers close themselves, leave them free if the doors are closed. If the dampers are closed by hand, wait three minutes before closing them.
5. If you have no air control, leave the fire door cracked open about two inches for three minutes after firing.
6. Unless these rules are strictly followed the firemen will be charged with violations of the smoke ordinance.

All Around The Town

Little Facts and Fancies About Well-Known Atlantans.

Henry Clarke is a good policeman and when he mounts guard on the traffic at Five Points he is a commanding figure. He took kindly to the innovation of whistles for the traffic squad, because whistling is not so tiring on the nerves and body as waving handkerchiefs, clubs or the varied other things the coppers used to have to direct the traffic with. But it is probable that if he had heard what a little girl said about him and his whistle the other day, he would be willing to go back to the old method. She was a youngster about 4 years old, and she leaned back against the cushions of the limousine like a princess. Clarke halted the machine with a touch of his whistle, and then started it again with two toots. Said the little girl: "Mamma, ain't that a funny looking engine?"

J. F. Letton, manager of the Ansley Hotel, is doing but three things this week. First he gets you off to one side and asks you confidentially if you have seen the big automobile exhibit in his dining room. Then he'll take you by the arm and lead you into the eating place, and after you've searched every nook and cranny for the car, he'll show it to you. It'll be standing right beside you, and it is made out of candy and the hundred other things that Jean Peyret, the "dueling chef" of the Ansley, uses in his kitchen. Then for the third thing Mr. Letton will laugh at you.

The talk at the banquet of the Georgia Commercial Secretaries the other night got around to a discussion of the weird things that toastmasters say when they are introducing speakers, and the inability of the average toastmaster to remember the names of speakers was largely commented upon. It all reminded M. L. Brittain, State Superintendent of Schools, of something that happened to him, which he declared showed very positively that he is not known everywhere.

due to speak at a meeting

down in South Georgia," related Mr. Brittain "and the toastmaster was an individual whose speech was geared very high. He initiated his vocabulary to excess in introducing the speakers, giving them great fame whether they had it or not. Finally, it came my turn, and the toastmaster unhesitatingly said of about all the high-sounding phrases there are. This is about what he said: 'Gentlemen, it is hardly necessary for me to introduce to you the next speaker on the program. He is one of Georgia's most famous men, known throughout the nation as a man of marvelous intelligence and ability. There is no man whose name and face is better known in the State of Georgia. We all know him like we know our brothers and our own fathers. Gentlemen, I take great pleasure in presenting the State Commissioner of Education, Mr. ————'. Then he leaned over to me," Mr. Brittain continued, "and he said loud enough for everyone to hear: 'What the devil is your name anyway?'"

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES DISAPPEAR

Chronic Sufferers Always Find Relief From Few Doses.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon. It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such disorders. It soaks right in, cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism, stiffness and leads the delicate linings of the bladder. More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases. You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.

CURRENCY BILL CAUCUS NOT TO BE BINDING

Senator Kern Declares Meeting Will Be Only to Organize the Democratic Forces.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Senator Kern, Democratic leader, today sent word to Democratic Senators that at 2 o'clock to-morrow "to meet and advise" on the currency bill. Kern said that the caucus would not be binding.

It is the purpose of this caucus, Kern said, to get something done or to get into the Senate. It is a question of whether we must be organized or not. We must be organized, he said, when we passed the tariff bill. He hoped that circumstances would compel a caucus, but he was not sure.

Senators given by Republican leaders a secret caucus on the currency bill, Kern said, would result in its defeat. He said that the caucus would be a measure to get into the Senate. He said that the caucus would be a measure to get into the Senate.

Railroad Must Cut Weeds, Court Rules

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The United States Supreme Court decided Monday that if railroads allow obnoxious weeds to grow on their rights-of-way and the weeds go to seed and the seed is blown into a farmer's field and grows, the railroad is responsible for damages.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad sued to test a Texas law entitled: "An act to prohibit railroads from allowing Johnson grass or Russian thistles from going to seed on their rights-of-way."

Perry-Plant Shoe Suit Again on Trial

The suit of George H. Perry, Atlanta shoe man, against the Thomas G. Plant Company, of Boston, shoe manufacturers, which has been on trial before Judge Ellis, probably will last several days more.

Perry is suing for $2,000, which he claims is due him on a 30 per cent division of the net profits made by a shoe department in a leading Whitehall street store maintained by the Plant Company and managed by him. The case has been in the courts since May, 1911.

Snow Fails to Stop Open-Air Marriage

DALTON, Nov. 11.—After having planned an open-air wedding at the foot of Cedar Ridge, Miss Winnie Robertson, a popular young woman of Grove Level, and Ernest Rollins, a young farmer of Lawrenceville, refused to let the snow flurries and biting north winds interfere with their plans.

Standing on a ledge of rock at the foot of the ridge and with the marriage decorations arranged by nature, the young people were married by the Rev. S. M. Hall, a number of relatives being present.

HEALTH EXPOSE IS UPHELD BY KENNEDY

Reorganization of Department and More Money Necessary for Hygienic Improvement.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, head of the city health department, Tuesday upheld the report on his department by the Russell Sage Foundation. He declared it was a fair criticism. The report was prepared after weeks of investigation by Frank Schneider, Jr. Though many of his comments are unfavorable, he praises the spirit of the health officers.

"Mr. Schneider very cleverly emphasized many needs of the department that we have been urging for years," said Dr. Kennedy. "His report brings up the question of means of securing them. If it says in so many places that it must provide additional funds and make certain changes, it will prove a great help to the department."

The report was prepared at the instance and expense of the Chamber of Commerce. Copies have been furnished Dr. Kennedy and other city officials, and it is the hope of the Chamber of Commerce that Council and the Board of Health will see fit to adopt some of the suggestions for improvement in Atlanta's health conditions.

Defects in Organization. After citing in one, two, three or four the specific faults of Atlanta's health system, Mr. Schneider says: "We have seen that there are serious defects in the city's present organization. The several of the largest hygienic opportunities are neglected, and that radical reorganization and enlargement will be necessary to secure adequate advantage of the situation."

Here are the specific needs as pointed out:

RESINOL STOPS TORTURING ITCH

There is no earthly need of itching and scratching. No matter how long you have suffered, no matter how many treatments you have tried, there are thousands who have been in as bad a plight, and who have found perfect skin health in Resinol. In even the stubbornest cases of eczema, ringworm, or other tormenting, unsightly humors, a warm bath with Resinol Soap and a single application of Resinol Ointment stop the itching instantly. Healing begins at once, and soon the simple, pleasant and economical treatment clears the trouble away. After that, the regular use of Resinol Soap for the toilet and bath is usually enough to prevent a return.

Resinol Soap (2c) and Resinol Ointment (1c and 3c), are also specially effective for eczema, hives, measles, dandruff, sores and many forms of skin. Prescribed by doctors for the past eighteen years and sold by practically every druggist in the United States. For trial free, write to Dept. B-11, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. But in the original Resinol message and avoid "substitutes."

Rules on Firing Furnace Given by POOLE

Smoke Inspector Issues Instructions to Firemen—Will Punish Violators.

As a further effort to reduce the smoke nuisance in Atlanta, City Smoke Inspector Poole announced Tuesday that he would issue a set of instructions to firemen, with the warning that if they did not follow them to avoid smoke cases against them at the Recorder's Court.

"Violators of smoke-producing furnaces must be punished," said Poole. "Under authority from the Smoke Commission, I am having printed on cards in big type simple instructions as to how to fire a furnace without making smoke. If the firemen don't follow them we will make cases against them as well as the owners of the furnaces."

Rules Are Simple. 1. Keep the fuel bed the same thickness all over the grate, as evenly as you can, except when putting in fresh fuel. 2. Before putting in fresh coal push back the live coals at the front to make room for the fresh coal. Do not leave more than two inches of live coals at the front of the grate. 3. Throw in not more than four shovels of coal at a time. 4. Unless these rules are strictly followed the fireman will be charged with violations of the smoke ordinance.

POLITICAL TINGE TO WINECOFF BANQUET

Three Prospective Mayoralty Candidates, Guests of Harrell, Make Significant Remarks.

No one expected any political speeches at the Hotel Winecoff banquet given at the Hotel Winecoff by Manager Frank Harrell to his Atlanta Monday night. No real political speeches were heard, but the little group of men, made up of three men who may have to contend as mayoralty candidates in the next city election, made their remarks significant.

MAYOR WINECOFF, Mayor of Atlanta, and Mayor Adams were present. In a short speech Mayor Winecoff announced that he would be in the thick of the going in the next election.

Introduced by Congressman J. Y. Smith, Colonel Adams, assistant United States Commissioner in the Department of the Interior, said:

"For years I have supported the administration of Jim Woodard, and I have been one of his most ardent supporters. Much indeed, he has done for Atlanta. I am going away on a mission of importance for my country, and I am sure I hope to receive the well wishes of my fellow-citizens. I introduce to you Frank Harrell, the next Mayor of Atlanta."

Mr. Adams spoke without referring to the race.

Later in the evening Colonel Adams said that under certain circumstances he would run for Mayor, but could not announce this as a definite thing until after the election.

Death of Athlete Reveals His Secret Wedding to Singer

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—Wayman P. Harrison, reported to have been the best athlete in the University of Georgia ever turned out, who died in Colorado last week, kept his marriage to a pretty colored singer, Miss Adie Rithum, of Canton, Ill., secret for two years. His family in Savannah learned of it when the body was brought here for interment.

Young Harrison married Miss Rithum in St. Louis, Mo., two years ago, when he was West of the line of successful college athletes. The parents on each side objected and they were married secretly.

HUNDRED DIE IN BLIZZARD OVER MIDDLE WEST

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Cleveland has been completely isolated from the outside world. The last mail, during which time the city has been cut off by a severe wind and snow storm, was in a blizzard of snow from July 10 to 11.

Many lives have been lost and many more are in danger. The lack of food has added to the suffering. Meat markets and grocery stores after exhausting their supplies have closed their doors.

Some of the deaths have been reported to be a result of the blizzard and the lack of food. The city is now in a state of panic and the people are in a state of distress.

100 Dead in Gale Over Great Lakes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—How many lives were lost in the storm which swept the upper Great Lakes and reached many points on the coast is not known for several days. To-day it was estimated that at least 100 lives had been lost in the gale.

It was shown that a large freight ship, probably carrying 50 men, was

St. Bernard Rescues Starving Pointer

MALDEN, MASS., Nov. 11.—"Fanny," a pointer owned by H. M. Reed, of this town, after having been missing four days, was rescued from starvation through the efforts of a Saint Bernard dog, owned by P. K. Wood.

The Saint Bernard led neighbors to an untenanted house, where "Fanny" was imprisoned under the piazza.

Here's the Dope to Date on Material to Rebuild Atlanta Club NINE OLD CRACKERS LEFT—TEN NEW ONES SIGNED

By O. B. Keeler.

HERE'S the latest possible dope on the Cracker lay-out for 1914. Bill Smith is shopping around in Ohio, and may have something up his sleeve, but he hasn't shaken it down yet. So the following is the freshest stuff from the local headquarters, with some information about the ten new Cracker already secured, who will stick at least until the wedding-out in the spring training.

FIRST The Old Stomach Bunch—the remnant of that fighting team that won Atlanta the brightest pennant title of its history.

Catchers—Chapman and Dunn. Pitchers—Dent, Price and Voss. Infielders—Munish. Outfielders—Weichman, Long and Nixon.

You will note nothing is said about Pitchers Thompson and Conzelmann, or about Infielders Smith and Holland. We simply don't know about them. That's all. We may see them when the roses bloom again. And again we say, that's all.

WELL, that leaves a hole needing to be plugged by several pitchers, a first baseman, a third baseman, a manish, a second baseman and a shortstop. The outfield looks pretty good as it is, and we're only grateful for that.

But Richard is gone, and Joe Agier and Wally Smith is gone, and Harry Holland, and there's no telling if we'll get either of the latter pair back, and it's a moral cinch the first two are gone for good.

Well, let's see—let's see. HERE are ten new ones, and not all rookies, either.

Following is some dope on the new ones:

Have Raynolds was optioned to the Richmond team of the Texas League last season. He appeared in 14 games, batting .250 and fielding .945, and playing what is reported to be an excellent game for a youngster.

Georgia Insists Game Be Played At Ponce DeLeon

ATHENS, GA., Nov. 11.—Professor Sanford, physical director at Georgia, has given out a statement to the effect that the contract between Georgia and Tech does not specify that Saturday's football game should be played at Grant Field, and Georgia insists that it must be played on neutral grounds as heretofore, or that a contract be entered into at once that will provide for one game in Atlanta one year on Grant Field and another in Athens the next year on Sanford Field.

It is maintained by the Georgia authorities that it is not only in fairness to the Georgia team that the game be played on neutral grounds, but that it is due the public that the greatest game of the season be played where the best accommodations are afforded.

The athletic authorities here have taken a stand that the game is to be played on Ponce DeLeon or not at all, and if Tech does not concede the neutrality, Atlanta will surely have the Georgia-Tech game for at least every other year.

A general holiday has been declared for Saturday, and at least 1,000 Athenians will go to Atlanta for the game.

SINNET MEETS WILLIAMS. ATLANTA, Nov. 11.—Young Sinnet, the Rock Island bantam, who has proved somewhat of a sensation so far as his early ring work is concerned, is going to get the gold belt in the Ring at Bascom on November 21. He was matched to-day to battle K. Williams, who claims he whipped Champion Johnny Culver, and who is the only boy who defeated Eddie Campy, whose latter victory into prominence.

Cross Gives Ritchie a Hot Time Champion Outpoints the Dentist

By Damon Runyon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Two mighty tired young fighting men hung together under the white eddying light in the center of the red roped ring at Madison Square Garden at 11:15 o'clock last night. Their blood-stained arms were interlocked and their bodies crimson with each other's gore, bent wearily together.

The going had soured, closing the ten-round bout between Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, and Leach Cross, prize of New York's lower East Side, and both men knew they had been in a fight.

Ritchie won, but his brows were drawn to corrugated ridges, and his eyes carried a worn expression that told something of the strain he had undergone to defend his title against the slashing dentist.

Ten Hard Rounds for Champ. It is unlikely that the young champion will ever again have to fight ten such stormy rounds until that day arrives when he must pass the way of all champions.

Cross fought a great fight. There were even fleeting moments when the championship seemed within his grasp. Master of the 19-round game, the dark-browed New Yorker carried the slender little Californian along through the early stages of the battle at a furious pace.

Cross made the greatest fight of his life around New York. It had been said of him that he is always at his worst when he is facing a champion, but he belied the sayings last night.

Leach was all over Ritchie in the first round, tearing out of his corner with wild attack that would have frustrated the average opponent. Whenever one of his swings caught the champion, Leach's head would snap back, and the Californian would snap back.

From Cross' corner came a yelling chorus of swearing and wilding throughout the fight, as a horde of excited seconds implored Leach to "keep his hands up." Over in the Californian's corner of the ring all was silence as the handlers of the champion watched him fight.

A wonderful follow is this Ritchie. He can fight, and he can hit, but Cross can do both things almost equally well, and there is no doubt from the showing of the last round, tearing out of his corner.

Southwest Title Is Alarmed by Texas

HOUSTON, TEXAS, Nov. 11.—The University of Texas claims the Southwest title for 1913 to-day as a result of the victory over the University of Oklahoma here, 13 to 6.

Dazzling plays, and spectacular open plays, that swept the Sooners off their feet, gave the Longhorns their two touchdowns. The first half was a mere formality, as the Longhorns, which Texas failed to pierce.

Pumpling proved costly for the Oklahoma and lost them many hard-earned gains. Their single score came in the last quarter on an forward pass, which Texas failed to pierce.

Leach was all over Ritchie in the first round, tearing out of his corner with wild attack that would have frustrated the average opponent. Whenever one of his swings caught the champion, Leach's head would snap back, and the Californian would snap back.

The South Sees Its Great Opportunity

This Section is Alive to the Benefits That Will Accrue to Business With the Opening of the Panama Canal.

The Southern Commercial Congress, which recently met in Mobile, was rendered notable by many essential features.

Primarily the Congress, in its large and representative attendance, was significant of the alert and vital interest with which the South realizes the magnificent era of development which is before it with the completion of the Panama Canal, and the united and intelligent vigor with which it is moving to seize upon its opportunities.

Every class and every profession in every section of the South was represented in that great industrial gathering, which was addressed by the President of the United States, several members of the Cabinet, distinguished members of Congress and the Senate and a number of the eminent men in the Republic. Every speech breathed good counsel and inspiring prophecies of the coming greatness of the South.

Notable indeed among the expressions of the Congress were its definite and pronounced approval of the progressive American policies of the time. "Little Americanism" and "reactive Americanism" had no currency in that live convention. And when Mr. Underwood and Mr. Graves, challenging the laggard and timorous spirit in some influential circles, made powerful pleas for our merchant marine, for our 5 per cent differential as its initiative, for the right to regulate the tolls of the canal we had built and paid for, and for a great navy, ample to defend the vast commercial enterprises which are to challenge international competition in the future, the applause that greeted these utterances outweighed all the other demonstrations of the convention.

There is no doubt that the South is awake alike in mind and energy, and is going forward and not backward in prosperity and in practical Americanism.

Within the last decade nearly every city within two hundred miles of Atlanta has doubled or more than doubled its population, and this remarkable growth is still going on, with Atlanta as its center. Men now living will see Atlanta a city as large as the Baltimore of to-day, and Birmingham a rival of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

It was in this foresight that Mr. Hearst planted one of his newspapers in Atlanta and will work in full unison with the other great forces looking to the unlimited development of Dixie.

What Will Be Rockefeller's Income Tax?

He realizes, of course, that the Government which lays the tax protects him in the POSSESSION of his property and that the tax is reasonable insurance.

He has shown his sense of public duty very emphatically by the giving away of many tens of millions and by the effort to give away and tie up for the public benefit a fortune that would probably amount to five hundred millions, if not more.

Just what his income is, the amount of the tax he pays will tell us. It will be an interesting revelation.

No matter how big the income is, the public need not worry. It is better to have one John D. Rockefeller drawing fifty million dollars a year and reinvesting it while he sips milk and seltzer, than to have fifty Coal Oil Johnnies or John W. Gaseses drawing a million a year each and spending the money to set a bad example on race tracks, in gambling houses and other disorderly resorts.

Comment on the Frank Case

THE FRANK CASE.

(From Atlanta Constitution.)

In a short while the issue of the life or death of Leo Frank will be fought out before the Supreme Court of the State.

He will not approach the court as a Jew or a Gentile, a beggar or a millionaire. He will be simply a man in legal peril of his life.

The six justices who sit upon the bench are men of unimpeachable character. Their professional equipment is unquestioned. At every angle they are qualified to administer the law with minds single to justice and closed to all extraneous influences.

There are many who are wholly sincere in their belief in Frank's guilt. Many believe with unshakable faith that Frank is the innocent victim of circumstance. These two beliefs are, of course, fixedly incompatible. It is between the two that the Supreme Court must come as final arbiter.

A court of last resort can have nothing in common with prejudice, racial or otherwise. Bias of any nature must be an alien to its counsels. It is and must be concerned solely with the righteous administration of justice under the law and the evidence.

It will undoubtedly discharge the function of weighing that evidence with scrupulous impartiality. Where the evidence is sufficient to support the verdict the verdict should stand. If it regards the evidence as insufficient in this case the verdict should be set aside and the accused be given a new trial.

How much income tax will

John D. Rockefeller pay to the Government? We believe that he will pay all that his conscience tells him that he ought to pay. We should like to know just what his conscience will tell him.

He realizes, of course, that the Government which lays the tax protects him in the POSSESSION of his property and that the tax is reasonable insurance.

He has shown his sense of public duty very emphatically by the giving away of many tens of millions and by the effort to give away and tie up for the public benefit a fortune that would probably amount to five hundred millions, if not more.

There are many who are wholly sincere in their belief in Frank's guilt. Many believe with unshakable faith that Frank is the innocent victim of circumstance. These two beliefs are, of course, fixedly incompatible. It is between the two that the Supreme Court must come as final arbiter.

A court of last resort can have nothing in common with prejudice, racial or otherwise. Bias of any nature must be an alien to its counsels. It is and must be concerned solely with the righteous administration of justice under the law and the evidence.

It will undoubtedly discharge the function of weighing that evidence with scrupulous impartiality. Where the evidence is sufficient to support the verdict the verdict should stand. If it regards the evidence as insufficient in this case the verdict should be set aside and the accused be given a new trial.

And it is before a court with these exalted attributes that the supreme legal fight of the Frank case will be staged. The Supreme Court of Georgia will come as near finding the justice of this mysterious case as can be expected of any tribunal ruled by human beings. It is fully competent to pass upon the many thorny issues here involved.

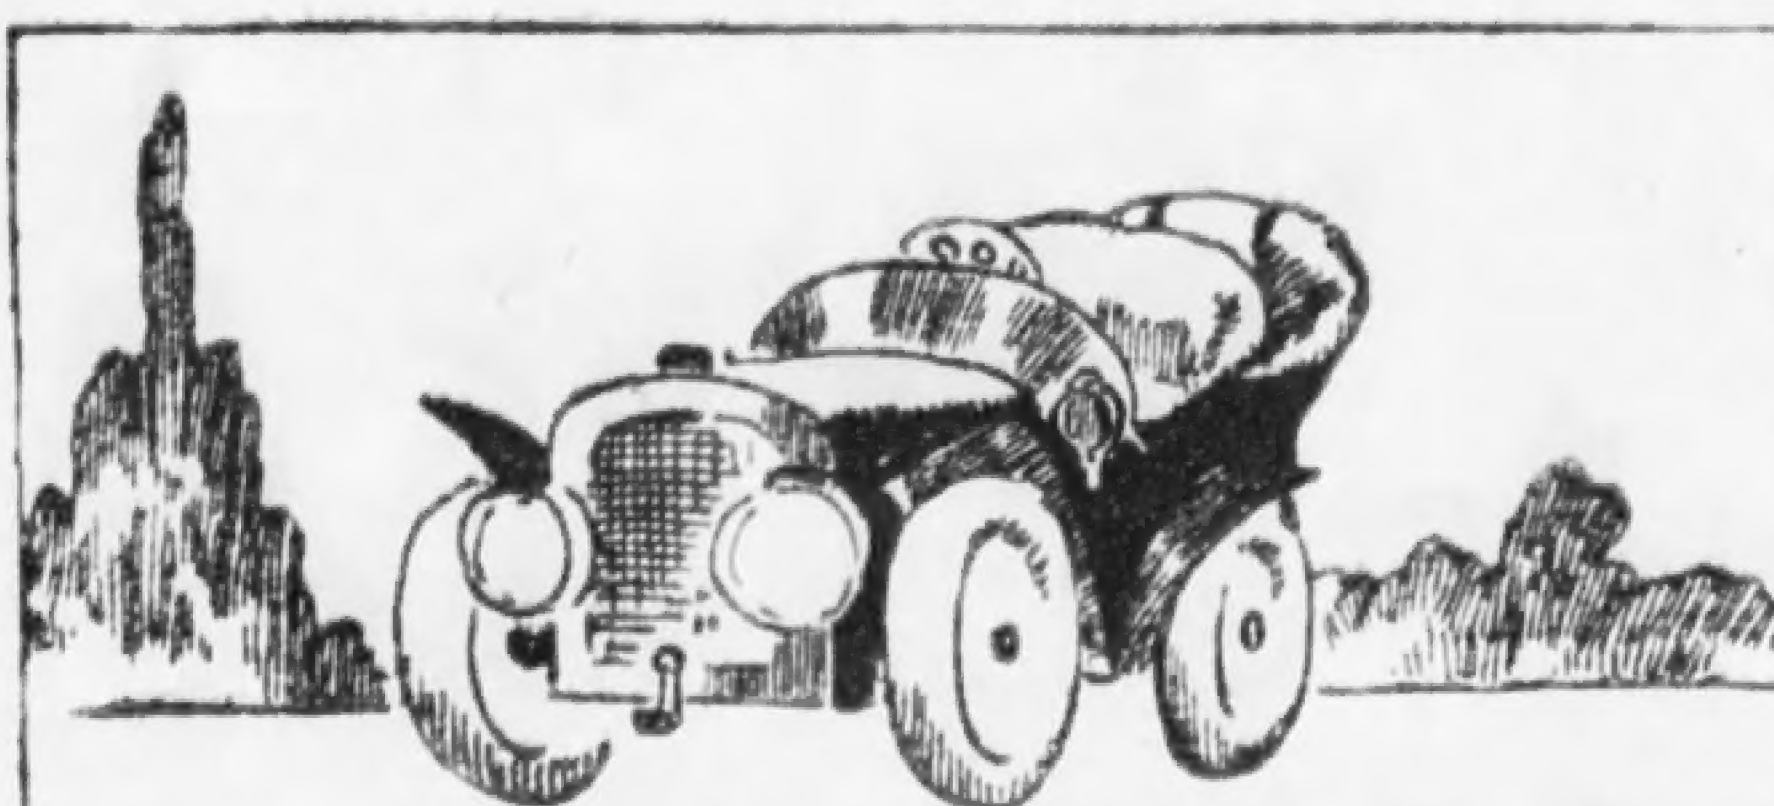

If the court writes its indorsement to the death warrant it will be because it believes the guilt of the defendant has been legally proven. It will not permit him to go to the gallows unless it is satisfied his guilt has been established beyond a reasonable doubt.

It is a curious circumstance of the situation is that a man shall have a fair trial for his life. The Supreme Court must say whether or not Frank has had such a trial. If he has, the verdict stands. If he has not, and if the verdict is not justified by the evidence, he is entitled to and he will receive a new trial.

The proponents and the opponents of Frank may be assured the court will act with ultimate conscientiousness. In full knowledge that whatever verdict it reaches will be cited in Georgia for many generations, it could not do otherwise.

And that is asked by anybody—everybody—is that absolute justice be done. If Frank is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, and if he is so proven to the satisfaction of the court, he should pay the penalty for his crime. If not, he should have a new trial. The Supreme Court must say!

Who Has the Right of Way?

By WINIFRED BLACK

SIX people were killed by automobiles in a little Western city within ten days just a week or so ago.

All of the people killed were sober, all of them were normally active, and every one of them was walking along on the public street where every citizen and every alien is entitled to walk.

And when the six different automobile drivers were brought on different days to different courts they all said the same thing—in a little different words.

The first chauffeur was distressed, he hated to think of killing the gentle middle-aged woman who lay dead in the morgue up-town.

"I saw her all right," said the chauffeur, "and I blew and blew. My whistle was in good order, but she never even turned her head.

I don't see how I was to blame." The second man who had killed a woman that week was not quite so worried. He seemed rather annoyed than anything else. "Why, the woman saw me coming," said the second driver, "and she never even tried to get out of my way."

The third driver was the owner of the car, which had killed an inoffensive old man. "He was walking right across the street," said the third driver, "and I saw him plainly. I tooted my horn as loud as I could, and when I saw he wasn't going to get out of the way I tried to stop, but it was too late."

And four families were left motherless and two harmless old men were killed just because the drivers of those cars didn't know and didn't want to know the very first principles of American law and American ideas.

"I tooted as loud as I could, but he wouldn't get out of the way." When the man, who had killed this man, said that not one person in that courtroom smiled or looked at all surprised. The Judge listened as one hearkens to a perfectly just and reasonable excuse for strange and puzzling conduct. And the courtroom loungers glanced at one another as who should say, "Well, after all, a man can't be blamed for everything."

And yet, if a man would start running down Peachtree at the top of his speed how many blocks would he go before he'd be arrested? What would happen if he shouted to every one in his path, "Get out of my way, I'm in a hurry?" How many people would let him push them out of the way and go by—just because he happened to want to get somewhere in a hurry or because he liked to run and needed the exercise?

The automobile is the intruder, the interloper, the one to give concessions and make allowances, not the man who walks. Isn't there some way of getting this simple fact into the brains of the persons who drive us madly from hither to yon in something that seems very like a demonic obsession?

Atlanta traffic is pretty well controlled. But I wish some one would get a list of the automobile murders from one end of this country to the other, day after day. I believe it would prove interesting reading, and in the meantime—what are we going to do about it?

An Arctic Pioneer

By REV. THOS. B. GREGORY.

THE capture of Fort Churchill by the French Admiral, La Perouse, 181 years ago, brought to a close the public career of Samuel Hearne, who may well be called the Pioneer of Arctic Exploration.

A braver man than Hearne never dared the terrors of the unknown, and midst the "blushing honors" that are these days coming to the Pearys and Amundsens, it were well not to forget the man who blazed the way for all future explorers of the Frozen North.

On December 7, 1770, Hearne, with a little band of Indians, set out to find the "Far-Away-Metal River," and on June 12, 1771, discovered the Coppermine. Pressing on, on July 17 he stood on the shores of the Arctic—the first white man to witness the tossing ice floes of that lone, green sea. He had found a region half as large as European Russia, and proved that not a narrow strip of land lay between the Atlantic and Pacific, but a vast continent.

This wide region Hearne was trying to hold for England when he was surprised at Fort Churchill, away up on the western shore of Hudson Bay. With only 25 men he was surprised by 400 French marines from the warship La Recepte, and nothing was left for him but surrender.

Hearne's right hand man was the great Chief Matonabee. Matonabee had thought his English friends invincible, and when he saw his creed of brute force overthrown by the fall of the fort he went out into the forest and killed himself.

After his honorable failure at Fort Churchill Hearne returned to England, where he died in 1792, at the age of 47.

Fortunately he wrote an account of his life, which was published a few years after his death, and lucky are they who have had the privilege of reading it. It is a story full to the brim of quiet heroism and the silent will-power that "does things."

Questions and Answers

LOSSES OF CIVIL WAR.

M. D.—It is usually estimated that the life losses during the Civil War, on both sides, measured to the million figure, The actual killed in battle numbered, on the side of the North, 100,000; on that of the South, 90,000. A large percentage of the losses was from wounds, but the largest of all was from sickness. Caused by climate and exposure. Of the million or thereabouts who were sacrificed on account of the struggle, the North lost between 850,000 and 700,000. The South, between 300,000 and 250,000. The Southerners, being acclimated, did not lose as many men from sickness, in proportion to the number enlisted, as the North did.

WATERLOO.

H. J. M.—The "best description of the Battle of Waterloo in novel form" is perhaps that which is given in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," although the one to be found in "Charles O'Malley, the Irish Dragon," is also fine.

It may be said with perfect safety that if you will read them both, Hugo's from the French side, and Lever's from the English, you will get the best and completest representation of the great conflict, in novel form, to be found in literature. The description in "Les Miserables" is the more famous; but Lever's story is also deservedly popular.

U. S. AND GERMAN NAVIES.

F. L. D. R.—The records of 1911, the latest available, show that the German Navy consisted of 335 craft of all kinds, of which the first-class battleships numbered 28; second class, 9; first-class cruisers, 13; destroyers, 116; torpedo boats, 70; submarines, 14. Total officers and men of the line, 35,500. The figures for the United States for same date are: Total craft, 204; first-class battleships, 14; second class, 9; first-class cruisers, 15; destroyers, 40; torpedo boats, 24; submarines, 40; officers and men of the line, 51,000.

Married Life

Unless the Man Is a Drunkard It Rests Within the Woman's Power to Make Him What She Will.

Written for The Atlanta Georgian
By Ella Wheeler Wilcox
(Copyright, 1913.)

WIFE, of a man in comfortable circumstances, and mistress of a good home, what are you doing with your opportunities for usefulness and for happiness?

What are you doing to keep your husband interested in you, to make your children proud of you, and to render your home a center of light, and bright, wholesome pleasure for your family and friends?

Those are the duties which confront every woman who takes marriage vows.

A Woman's Duties.

They are the first and foremost duties of the world for a woman who is married.

If she is not filling these duties to the utmost of her abilities, she is making life a failure, no matter if she is singing like Lind, writing like Sappho, painting like Bonheur or leading an army toward suffrage goals like Joan d'Arc.

We must better ourselves before we can better the world. That is woman's great work. When she rounds out her own character and her own home life, she may then talk and sing and write and make speeches for the benefit of humanity if she has the talent.

But first—let her make herself. The woman who takes marriage vows must consider her husband and her home her world until she has done in every possible way her entire duty toward perfecting that world.

Unless a man is a hopeless degenerate or drunkard, it rests greatly in the woman's power to make him what she will.

Love and Fact.

The average man starts marriage with more love in his heart than the average wife brings as her dower.

A large percentage of women, sorry for a dozen reasons, in which great and absorbing love is not included.

The majority of men are led into marriage through love of the woman selected to be a wife.

That so many men do not remain in love is due to various causes. And these causes can be traced very often to the failure of the wife to do all her role calls for in the great drama of life.

Men demand a bright, interesting, orderly, cheerful, comfortable environment.

They want a woman to look pleasing; to dress tastefully; to be entertaining; to be amusing; to be economical; yet to supply all their needs in the home.

It is a difficult task, especially if the man is inclined to be close in his money dealings.

But just there is where woman's tact should be employed. A tactful woman, who loves her husband, can make him see the necessity of enlarging her income; and she can accomplish this without any humiliating methods of begging or arguing. There is nothing love and tact can not accomplish in this world.

Are You Using These Methods?

Are you using these admirable methods in your home?

Are you making good use of the many hours in the day, when you are away from your husband, to render yourself and your home more attractive?

Are you giving even one hour daily to some form of self-culture?

If you are, this means that you will be adding new and interesting friends to your life each year and enriching your home, and increasing your prospects for giving and receiving happiness.

SOME OF THE DEFECTS IN OUR JURY SYSTEM

Editor The Georgian:

I have read your recent editorials with respect to the jury system in Georgia, and I am sure they, with the discussion provoked, are serving a commendable purpose.

I venture to submit a few observations of my own in connection with this matter, because I have discussed the subject in one or two law magazines heretofore, and I am possessed of profound convictions in regard to the same.

THERE CAN BE NO QUESTION THAT THAT WHICH MAY BE CALLED THE CHINERY OF AMERICAN COURTS IS MORE OR LESS DEFECTIVE AND SUSCEPTIBLE TO WHOLESOME REFORM.

We hear the complaint that in many instances the rules of procedure are so rigid and fixed as not to be conducive to the ends aimed at. It is proposed as a remedy to make the fixed procedure more elastic and more subject to the discretion of the trial judge.

Much complaint arises from the inability of jurors to comprehend precisely what issue is submitted to their determination. This is due to the practice obtaining in many courts of submitting cases to the jury under a charge containing mere generalities and platitudes instead of under a charge setting out the precise issues of fact to be determined and presenting them to the jury in a sharp and concise form.

FURTHER CAUSE OF SUCH DIFFICULTY IS THE PRACTICE OF ALLOWING USELESS AND NEEDLESS WRANGLES BETWEEN OPPOSING COUNSEL IN WHICH MUCH IRRELEVANT MATTER NOT IN EVIDENCE IS STATED, UNDER THE PRETENSE OF WHAT COUNSEL EXPECTS TO PROVE. THE ISSUES OF THE CASE, ETC., AND THE ADMISSION BY THE JUDGE OF MUCH IRRELEVANT TESTIMONY, CALCULATED TO MISLEAD AND CONFUSE A JURY.

The temperance of a judge, his grasp and hold upon the case on trial, and the training of the lawyers practicing before him, are as important factors in the proper administration of justice as acts of the Legislature and rules of court.

It can not be gained that the American bench and bar are in many instances sadly deficient in that training which is expected of first-class judges and practitioners.

The criticisms made by the public upon the courts as expressed upon the street corners and in the comic papers, are not far from being proper diagnoses of the evils existing in the administration of justice.

As an illustration of the custom of judges in giving such generalities in charge to the jury is a description given by a wag in describing a trial in court in which he quotes the judge in his charge as telling the jury to "remember the Magna Charta, the Constitution of the United States and the Panama Canal, and retire gentlemen and make up your verdict."

THE RESTRICTION THROWN AROUND THE POWER OF THE JUDGE IN MANY JURISDICTIONS PREVENT HIM FROM PROPERLY AIDING THE JURY IN ARRIVING AT A VERDICT.

More power in this respect could well be given with good results to many of our State courts. It is often suggested that jurors in civil cases be allowed to bring in verdicts upon special issues of fact rather than general grounds, which, in the case of a special verdict, he could not urge justification without nullifying himself. By allowing issues of fact to be settled by special verdicts many reversals and new trials could be obviated.

Quoting Moorehead's Story in his book cited, "It is important that the trial should be conducted that there will be no second trial of the same facts. This can in many cases be done by submitting to the jury distinct issues of fact, or requiring them to answer specific questions, a practice which has been repeatedly recommended by the American Bar Association and other organizations of high standing."

As cases are generally submitted to a jury, the jurymen are required, after a long trial and moving appeals to their passions and prejudices, upon evidence which must be remembered imperfectly, and under instruction on complicated questions of law at best imperfectly understood, to decide whether on the whole the plaintiff or defendant should prevail.

The real issues are obscured or forgotten, and the jury must often agree upon a verdict without really considering the vital questions upon which the rights of the parties depend.

Georgia lawyers familiar with jury verdicts in Justice Courts will readily realize the force of this suggestion.

BAPTIST WOMEN OPEN MISSION MEET HERE

Attendance of Georgia Union Convention in Tabernacle Exceeds Expectations.

Seven hundred strong, the Women's Baptist Missionary Union Tuesday morning convened at the Baptist Tabernacle for the 31st annual convention. Every seat in the big Tabernacle was taken and the aisles were crowded when Miss Emma Amos, secretary, called the meeting to order.

From every nook and corner, every hamlet and village and city of Georgia the women came. Every train into Atlanta brought delegates and visitors. The attendance exceeded the dreams of the Ponce DeLeon Baptist Church members, who are acting as hostesses.

Arrangements had been made for the delegates and visitors to be housed in the homes of the Ponce DeLeon Church congregation, but the hotels had to care for a good many of the out-of-town folks on account of the unexpected overflow.

Mrs. W. G. Neel, president of the local division of the Union, is chief hostess.

The feature of the morning meeting was the address by Mrs. A. J. Orme on "Pioneers in the Women's Missionary Union of Georgia," and the address of Miss Kathleen Mallory, the subject of which was "Our Spiritual Need."

Mrs. W. G. Neel, president of the Union, of Cartersville, Ga., presided at the morning meeting.

"The object of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union is to create more interest in missionary work, both in the State of Georgia and in foreign countries as well," said Mrs. Neel.

"We know that there is a great deal of work to be done in our State, right here in Atlanta and in every city in the world, as far as that is concerned," she continued. "The Union is growing every day and our work extends all over the globe."

Pretty Ushers Busy.
Mrs. Boykin, the hostess for the Ponce DeLeon Church, stood at the door and smilingly received every one of the strangers and properly directed them.

"Did you ever see so many smiling women in one place?" asked Mrs. Boykin. "I don't believe the crowd would be any more enthusiastic if we turned this into a suffrage meeting and featured Mrs. Pankhurst."

SOUSA ARRIVES; SEES GOOD IN RAGTIME

Spread of Syncopated Music Not Unmitigated Evil, Declares March King.

Sousa's Band plays at the Auditorium to-day from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m., 4 to 5 p. m. and 8 to 9 p. m.

John Philip Sousa, "March King," disembarked at 11:58 Tuesday morning from a Southern train that was only 5-1-2 hours late.

The "March King" was not perturbed. "Well, we got here before noon, anyway," he remarked. "The conductor said he hoped we would. I hoped so, too. Now I'll have to hurry."

Mr. Sousa was not in too much of a hurry to talk a little, however. He talked about music. That might have been guessed by any ordinarily astute person. Specifically Mr. Sousa talked about ragtime, by request.

Sees Some Good.

"I find that there is a good deal of curiosity existing as to what I think about ragtime," said Mr. Sousa, waiting for a taxicab. "Ragtime, the way I understand it, is amenable to precisely the same rules and criticisms as other forms of composition—that is to say, there is a good ragtime and bad ragtime, the same as there are good symphonies and bad symphonies. And between a good bit of ragtime and a bad symphony I'll take the ragtime every time."

"People have got too much in the way of taking a piece of music for granted, if it is long enough. Symphonies always are long. They wouldn't be symphonies if they weren't. So the high-browed and the goggle-eyed and the flat-chested are disposed to nod their heads wisely over the symphony and heap contempt on the humble rag."

Which procedure is highly distasteful to Mr. Sousa, who frequently plays ragtime himself.

But Some Bad.
"It's the same as literary merit," Mr. Sousa asserted. "A poem doesn't have to be a gem to be a gem and worthy of the highest praise. There are sonnets of fourteen lines and even single verses that stand as high as the greatest and longest works."

"But all ragtime isn't good; don't forget that. It is a very easy style to write in, and the temptation consequently is felt by a great many mediocre or even poor composers to take advantage of the popularity of this form of syncopation. The result is bad ragtime—and some of it is very bad."

Mr. Sousa seemed happy at getting into Atlanta.

Loves Atlanta.
"I always have loved this town," he said. Then he laughed, with a sudden recollection.

"Did you know I composed 'El Capitán' some time ago? Well, I did. And I always have liked that song. Do you recall it?"

Does anybody not recall it—
"Behold El Capitán—(Gaze at his moustache and air,
Notice his penetrating glare;
Come, march his mif you can—
He's a champion beyond compare."

That way, Mr. Sousa laughed some more, and Miss Virginia Root and Miss Margel Gluck joined him, and they all said they remembered "El Capitán," and wanted to know when Mr. Sousa was going to write some more of that sort of thing in light opera.

Mr. Sousa was frank—he didn't know.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

The spring of 1890 I was attacked by Rheumatism, and I suffered as only those who have it know, for three years. I tried many remedies, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to many who were terribly afflicted with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of Rheumatism to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a single stamp, your name and address and I will send it free to you. You have heard it said, and has proven itself to be that long looked for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of 10 cents, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Don't fail! Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write to-day.

Marconi Operations Cause of Suspension

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Stock Exchange directors to-day ordered the suspension for five years of Messrs. Heyborn and Craft for their methods in placing the shares of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America on the exchange, and which created a big scandal in Europe. A five-year suspension is equivalent to expulsion.

It was charged that Heyborn and Craft, after disposing of big blocks of the stock to their friends at 1-1-2, placed the securities on the market and sold them for 3-1-4, making a huge fortune in the sale of the stock at the high figures.

Seek Settlement in Fire Salary Dispute

A special committee of Council and the Board of Firemasters Tuesday began negotiations to settle the differences between Mayor Woodward and the Board of Firemasters over the employment of six men at salaries aggregating $500 a month, and the new fire alarm system and the private telephone exchange in the fire headquarters.

Mayor Woodward insists that the cost is too high.

Railroad Agents to Plan for Shriners

Plans for the reception to be given the visiting Shriners when they meet here in annual convocation next spring will be discussed at a dinner to be tendered the passenger agents of Atlanta by Forrest Adair, potentate of Yarnab Temple, Tuesday night at the Capital City Club.

More than 50,000 visitors are expected at this convention, and railroad facilities and hotels will be taxed to the limit to accommodate them.

Asks an Injunction to Keep Relatives Away

NASHVILLE, Nov. 11.—An unique suit in which a father asks a perpetual injunction to prevent his son and granddaughter visiting him except on specific invitation was filed in the Circuit Court here to-day by Cully McCord.

It is alleged in the complaint that Charles R. McCord, the son, for many years refused to speak to his father or mother.

Mill Men Fined for Neglect of Employees

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11.—G. L. Perkins, superintendent, and J. K. King, a foreman in the Perkins Hosiery Mills, were each fined $100 in the Superior Court of Muscogee County, on charges of failing to provide seats and other comforts for women employees at the mills, when not on duty.

The complaint was made last June. The fines were paid.

Aged Blind Negress
Found Dead in Swamp

EATONTON, Nov. 11.—A negro woman, Mary West, more than 60 years old and blind, was found in a swamp near here dead from exposure. Her husband has been in the county jail for some time, and the woman had lived alone, the neighbors looking after her wants from time to time.

When the negress was missed, a search lasting 24 hours resulted in the body being found in the swamp.

Comes From Asylum
For Trial as Slayer

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11.—Sheriff Beard has brought Mrs. May Radcliff to Columbus from the State Asylum for the Insane, at Milledgeville, where she has been confined since last May. She will be put on trial Thursday on a charge of killing her husband, George Radcliff, a Columbus merchant, on the night of March 19.

Mrs. Radcliff was to have been tried at the May term of the Superior Court, but physicians declared her mind was unbalanced.

JULIE RING A BRIDE.
FORT WAYNE, IND., Nov. 11.—Julie Ring, sister of Blanche Ring, the New York actress, and James Norvall Smith, vaudeville artists, were married here last night.

CORDELE SLAYER SAYS HE WAS SHOT IN BACK

Quin Smith, Probably Fatally Wounded, Accuses Ed Holliday of Firing From Behind.

CORDELE, Nov. 11.—Probably fatally wounded as a result of the shooting affray at Raines, in which R. E. Holliday, Troy King and Harvey Smith, his brother, were killed, Quin Smith to-day declared that he was shot in the back by Ed Holliday, son of R. E. Holliday, who was present when the shooting commenced.

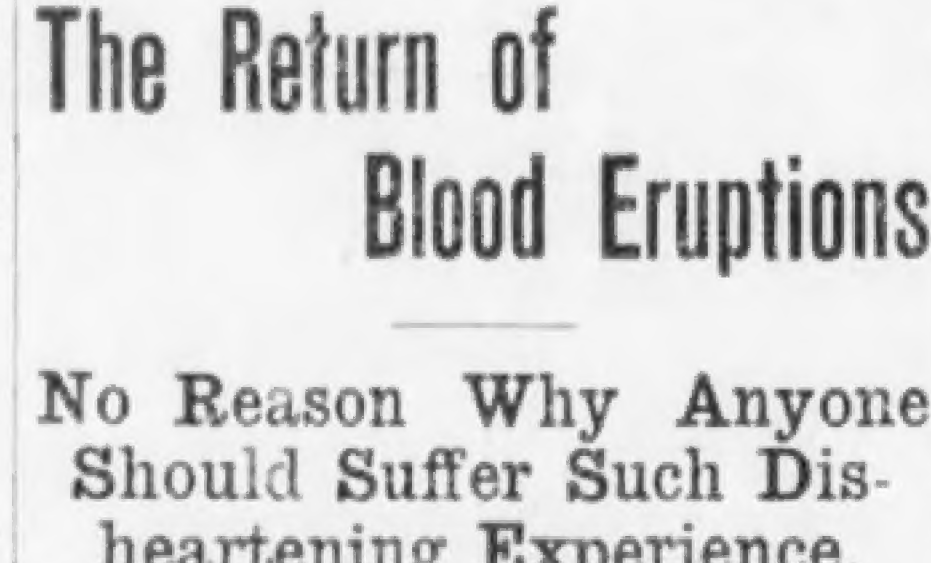

Eyewitnesses to the triple slaying, however, state that they did not see Ed Holliday with a gun. The bullet which entered Smith's back is the one which will probably result fatally to him. According to reports, Quin Smith was facing R. E. Holliday when the shooting commenced, and stood in that position while the shooting was in progress until he fell, two bullets from the pistol of R. E. Holliday inflicting flesh wounds.

Eyewitnesses say that when the train on which R. E. Holliday was a passenger, returning to his home from Cordale, arrived at Raines and Holliday alighted, King attacked him with a scuffling, and with a blow on his head knocked him to the ground.

Tried to Stop Fighting.
"Come on out here, we have it in for you," Harvey Smith is alleged to have said. Holliday arose, gun in hand. At this instant Quin Smith rushed up and, in an apparent attempt to quell the difficulty, cried out for the men to keep their guns in their pockets. A fusillade of bullets, fired indiscriminately, followed, and Holliday fell to the ground, but continued firing. Quin Smith, then wounded by the two bullets from Holliday's pistol, crawled to the dead body of his brother and, taking the pistol from his hand, also began shooting. Troy King had also fallen dead by this time.

The Return of Blood Eruptions

No Reason Why Anyone
Should Suffer Such Disheartening Experience.

No case of poisoned blood is ever cured until the last destructive germ has been eliminated from the system. And the only remedy that is assimilated in the tissues and stimulates cellular activity to overcome harmful germs is the famous S. S. S.

A few doses of this wonderful blood purifier will start such pronounced activities in the cellular tissues of the body as to soon show decided changes in the skin.

The skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of S. S. S. is declared by eminent authorities to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells. Certain it is that in a surprisingly short time even the worst skin eruption shows a most remarkable change; it begins to dry up; the skin peels off in tiny flakes, and soon a layer of clear, healthy and firm tissues results.

The reason for this is in the peculiar stimulation of S. S. S. which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutrient it requires for regeneration.

Not only this, but if from the presence of some disturbing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses, and kindred troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that this poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence.

This fact has been demonstrated in cases of severe skin eruption that had seemed to be incurable.

You can obtain S. S. S. at any well stocked drug store. If you insist upon it, but be sure you are not talked into something else claimed to be "just as good."

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 215 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
